River no-wake leaves some up a creek

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

While some residents are happy with the now yearlong no-wake restrictions on the upper Fox River, others claim it has left them up a creek. However, all agree that the fishing has been negatively affected.

"Our neighbor has been fishing and did not catch a single catfish in two days," said Don Elmore, who was enjoying the sunset along the river with his wife Betty. "The fishing is terrible."

Betty, however, has noticed an increase in waterfowl visiting the area. "The no-wake was a big factor," she said. "Now you can see more heron. You can see a lot of those."

The Elmore's neighbors, Ed and Linda Pipala, who own both a home along the river as well as the Bridgeport Inn, can find no such positive results from the yearlong no-wake which extends from the boat launch in the Chain O'Lakes State Park up to the Wisconsin border.

When asked if they noted any advantages to the no-wake zone, Ed said, "Absolutely none." Linda joked, "Well, we don't have any water skiing in the middle of the night anymore."

But, the Pipalas do have some concrete problems with the no-wake. "People have been told that their property values have declined $10,000," explained Linda. "We now essentially live on the dead end of a channel."

"The people here took a $10,000 hit," said Ed. "You are not a waterfront property owner anymore, it is just a ditch. Some residents are getting piers up on the lake."

Musicians aid in St. Peter's new enrichment program

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

As a result of a substantial donation by the locally popular band, Grease, the St. Peter's School Family Association will kick-off its educational enrichment program this fall. The enrichment program will be available to all students at St. Peter's at no charge to the parents.

The band, Grease, was originally created to perform, at no charge, during Footlights, which is the major fund raiser for St. Peter's School. The band became so popular and in demand, it began to perform for fees, but it never has forgotten its roots. Over the years, the band generously supported St. Peter's.

The enrichment program was the brainchild of the Family Association, which is the parents' organization of the school. The program is patterned after some of the "gifted" programs operated in other area schools.

But, one of the program's organizers, Julianne Thain, explains that the term "gifted" should not be used. "We've found it would benefit any child," said Thain. "So we have decided it (the program) would be open to everybody."

Thain and the other organizers of the program believe that all the students of the school would be "enriched" by the program, no matter what level the student may be. "The enrichment idea — everybody loves it," she said. "Since we started talking about this, I have never seen such a great response from parents."

The program will be operated completely by the parents of the school, along with some of the teachers. The parents attended enrichment workshops held by the enrichment coordinator from Round Lake. The volunteers were taught how

Superintendent Gonwa rejects unit school plan

ALEC JUNG
Staff Reporter

The proposed Lake Villa unit school district likely won't make the November ballot after Lake County Regional Superintendent Ed Gonwa denied the request to put the issue on the ballot.

The final decision is now up to Dr. Joseph Spagnolo, state superintendent of schools, who has 30 days to decide.

Gonwa cited hardships the unit district would place on current Millburn and Antioch Elementary Districts. He said the unit district would cause Millburn to lose many students, assessed valuation, and state aid, limiting the district's ability to educate the remaining students.

"If I would have ruled in favor of the committee I would have had to deny Millburn. It had to be in the best welfare of all the districts. I would have to ignore the effect on Millburn and District 34 and I could not do that," Gonwa said.

Gonwa's response lists the effects to Millburn which include the projected decline in students from 400 to 80 which would have drastically cut state aid to the school. Also, he states the district assessed valuation would be reduced from $39.5 to $12.5 million raising the cost per pupil. He feared the school couldn't operate in an efficient manner with so few students remaining.

On the other side of the coin, Joyce Heneberry, vice president of the Committee of Ten, was upset with the decision. She feels the voters should decide the issue.

"If there was a concern, let the voters of the community decide on their own and go by their decision," Heneberry said.

Heneberry said the question of how to solve the growth problems in the township won't be answered if the voters don't get a say in what the solution should be.

"Regardless of what your position on the issue is, we will not know what the opinion of the community is unless it makes it to the ballot," Heneberry said.

Waterway: no-wake, no-anchoring

TINA L. SWIECH
Staff Reporter

The Fox Waterway Agency has reinstated a 150-foot no-wake zone for the shoreline of the Chain of Lakes voting in favor of public opinion. The ruling will not take effect until next boating season.

During a public meeting, residents stepped up to the microphone one-by-one taking a turn to speak out on the question raised by Chairman Dr. William C. Dam.

"Should we create a 150-foot no-wake for the perimeter of the Chain?" asked the head of the Fox Waterway Agency.

President of the United Homeowners Association of unincorporated Antioch Township, Carole Jonites, presented the board with a petition of 225 signatures asking the 150-foot no-wake zone to be reinstated.

"Because we live on the Chain, we feel our voice should be heard," said Jonites who represents approximately 2,500 homeowners.

The concerned resident then went on to thank Director Judy Martini "for instigating the public hearing process on this issue."

After the hearing, many of the large number of lake and river dwellers walked away happy after the Fox Waterway Agency board agreed on no-wake and no-anchoring sites.

The board voted to allow its attorney, John Roth to draft an ordinance implementing a 150-foot no-wake along the entire shoreline of the Chain O' Lakes, not including the Fox River.

Tom Decker of Cary lives on the river. He spoke at the hearing expressing why he doesn't agree with the no-wake "I can understand a 150-foot (no-wake) on the lakes, but you start doing that on the river, and you're gonna close the river down," said Decker.

The board delayed reinstating a no-wake zone on the river above the Algonquin Dam.

The zone on the river was originally 500-feet, and then someone illegally moved the buoys to 2,900 feet in the 1970's, explained Dam.

A Department of Conservation study showed the buoys to be best at 1,500-feet and thus they were again moved.

The Agency proposed to change it to 2,200-feet at the request of an Algonquin village trustee. The board tabled the proposal.

Dam said the board was willing to move it to 2,200 feet and add an extra 8-acres of "quiet" waterway. But "the vast majority don't want it changed."

Karen Kabbes, executive director explained the Committee implored the agency that setting up that large a no-wake zone wouldn't be a good idea.

But agency officials explained the no-wake zone, influenced by the environmental impact study done by the Army Corps of Engineers, would help prevent shoreline erosion and better quality water overall.

Included in the no-wake area will be a no-anchoring zone on the south and west portion in an area which residents have been up in arms with for a long time.

Before the vote, Armand Partipilo armed with several 8 x 10 inch color photos of boaters parked in front of his home, said he would like to see both pass. "A no-wake by itself is not desirable enough. If it was accompanied by a no-anchoring, it would be better."

Pistakee Bay, most of which is actually in McHenry County, is known to some as "the Lake Forest of the Fox Lake area" with its homes on the upward scale. Residents there have been brewing over the dual issues since the 1970s when boaters began flocking to the waterway.

Residents, most of them living in homes ranging in price from $400,000 to $750,000, have been angered with boaters who park in convoys in front of their waterfront property and often times stay all night 'partying' loudly.

The area was deemed "no-anchoring," pleasing residents who had been complaining. After the May meeting, the agency did not put the no-anchoring buoys up as they had done each spring, and homeowners were afraid it could happen again.

Chairman Dam, however, stated he feels the Chain and river doesn't only belong to waterfront property owners, and focused on tourism.

"There are nine million people who live within two hours. This is 'their' waterway," said Dam.

A large crowd applauded the decision of the agency after they decided to implement the no-anchoring zone once again, this time 150-foot from the shoreline.

Partipilo, a resident of Pistakee Bay, was one homeowner "relieved" to see the agency agreement on the no-anchoring zone. "I've worked on it since 1976," said Partipilo.

Surprising to Chairman, Dam, the no-wake proposal was not supported by the agency's Advisory Committee.

Voting on the ordinance is to take place at the next Agency meeting, and the zones would not go into effect until next year.

Grass Lake board president resigns

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

The Grass Lake School's Board of Education has accepted the resignation of Board President Cynthia Marquart. Marquart, who took over the office of president in February, found she was unable to make the time commitment she felt the job deserved.

"I felt the job (as president) needed me 100 percent," said Marquart. "There wasn't any way for me to do it the way it needed to get done."

The Marquart family has started a new business in interactive distribution which began to require increasing amounts of time. "My husband and I started a new business," explained Marquart, "setting up distribution systems for Fortune 500 companies."

Marquart said she felt a little better about her decision to resign because of her confidence in new Grass Lake School Superintendent Jim Beveridge. Beveridge replaces Dr. Ruth Bill, and will also act as the school's principal.

"The decision to leave was very hard to make," said Marquart. "Having him (Beveridge) here made the decision much easier. He is awesome. He is wonderful."

Marquart had been a veteran of the Grass Lake School Board, in the process of serving her second term. Her fellow board members had only kind words about Marquart.

"We will miss her," said Liz Schmehl, board member. "She did a fine job both as board president and as a board member. But, we do understand her reasons."

"We have an excellent superintendent, however, and he has offered to guide in seeking a board member to replace her," Schmehl continued. "Still, you hate to see good people go."

Replacing Marquart as the board president is school board member Mark Franzen. The Grass Lake School Board is now accepting applications to fill the open position on the board.

Managing growth is top goal for superintendent

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

The new superintendent of the Antioch Community Consolidated School District 34 has outlined his goals for the upcoming school year. In a letter to the school board, Dr. Daniel L. Burke told the board of the challenges the school district faces.

"In my view, we face a number of challenges to be met over the next several years. Clearly, we are a sound district, well positioned to meet these challenges successfully," explained Burke.

Topping the list, is managing the continuing growth in the district's enrollment. In line with that goal, Burke also notes the challenge of maintaining a "healthy fiscal condition in a precarious and uncertain financial climate."

There will be some curriculum changes in the district as the schools begin to align coursework towards the state's Quality Review/School Improvement process. Also, there is a plan to integrate additional instructional technology into the curriculum. These changes will require additional staff development as well as careful budget planning.

"My paramount responsibility, it seems to me, is to coordinate and align your individual efforts into a concentrated and systematic group effort which both attains the purpose and supports the individual," Burke continued in his letter to the board. "Unquestionably, collaboration, consensus building, mutual respect, and cooperation are the required cornerstones of our district's foundation and successful future."

In line with Burke's goals, Antioch Upper Grade School (AUGS) just announced the addition of new programs for the 1994-1995 school year. The school is also adding an existing course at a new grade level.

According to Principal Debbie Kerr-Carpenter, next year's AUGS curriculum will include, for the first time, an exploratory course in Spanish at grade six and an exploratory course in dramatic arts in grade seven. An elective course in journalism will be offered at grade eight and sixth-grade students will have an opportunity to study technology education, which had been previously unavailable.

"These courses," said Kerr-Carpenter, "will be very positive learning opportunities for all students we serve. Their addition at this time is a result of a commitment on the part of the board of education to expand programs for students, and a dedicated and creative staff who worked with me on the complex task of scheduling these new classes into our instructional day."

"I couldn't be happier for our students," she continued. "Having an opportunity to explore various topics and subject areas is a critically important component of a well-rounded early adolescent education curriculum."

excellent Taste."

The only hitch this year was the lack of kiddy rides. A ride promoter had been contracted to provide four children's rides at the celebration, but on the road to Antioch, the promoter and the rides were involved in an automobile accident. "All six of the people were hospitalized," said LeMere.

Besides that, the Taste offered more vendors and more food. At the last moment, Bernhardt's Bakery joined the celebration offering their outstanding desserts and bake goods.—by MARY FOLEY

Teacher retires to run new program

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

The bad news is that Norma Rubash is retiring from her 17-year stint teaching Grass Lake School's youngest students. The good news is that she may be back part-time to teach the new gifted and talented program.

"I'll miss the children," said Rubash. "It is a great thrill to be a child's first teacher."

Rubash began her teaching career after obtaining a bachelor's degree from Slippery Rock University in Pennsylvania. She taught in Pennsylvania for four years before moving to Indiana, where she taught for six years.

She obtained her masters degree at Perdue, and has been at Grass Lake School ever since. "I started very young," Rubash grinned. "That is a lot of years."

While Rubash seems very sad about leaving her little learners, she is looking forward to her new job. "It is really exciting," said Rubash. "We have been working on it for awhile."

Currently there is a gifted-talented program at the school, but the new program, if approved by the school board, will be much more extensive. It is planned to be a program in addition to regular classes.

Rubash has already prepared for the position and has gone through the necessary training and state certification process. "It has always been an interest of mine," she said.

While Grass Lake has a new superintendent who has not had the opportunity to work with Rubash yet, Superintendent Jim Beveridge had nothing but nice things to say about Rubash.

"From what I have been told by other teachers and staff, she has been an excellent teacher," said Beveridge. He said the idea for the beefed-up program has been discussed, although it is subject to board approval.

Former school board president, Cynthia Marquart, also had great things to say about Rubash. "She (Rubash) is one of the best people put on this earth," said Marquart. "She was the person everybody hoped their kids would get."

Anti-gang group seeks new members

A private community-based anti-gang group is trying to increase its effectiveness by gaining new members who will support the group's aims.

Community Outreach Uniting Residents Against Gang Environment, (COURAGE) is looking for new members. The group focuses its anti-gang efforts with positive alternatives for youth and education and information for adults.

COURAGE is a combination of Antioch, Grayslake, Lake Villa and Lindenhurst residents taking a pro-active approach to gang activity. The group has been in existence over a year.

The youth group meets on a weekly basis and is continually growing. Students aged 12-18 are encouraged to join. The youth group plans on building a float for the Lindenfest Parade and would like some help from the adults as well.

The group is on a roll after the very successful Rock and Rollathon which raised in excess of $1,500 for the organization.

The event drew 250-300 participants.

The cost of a membership drive is $1 for youth, $10 for family, $25 Business/Civic and $100 Government. As of the end of July, only paid members will receive newsletters, mailings, notice of events, voting rights and membership cards.

The next meeting is scheduled for 7 p.m. on July 27 at the Lake Villa District Library. The agenda items will be the membership drive, upcoming presentations and summer events.

Man charged with child sex abuse

ALEC JUNG

Staff Reporter

A Fox Lake man was charged with criminal sexual abuse for reportedly touching a 15-year-old girl repeatedly in her private areas.

Round Lake Police arrested Salvador Reye, 44, after the victim identified him in a photo line up. Police Chief Joseph Trkovsky said Reye apparently saw the girl cleaning in an apartment at 600 Avilon Ct. and went after her.

The girl was able to get away from him and run away. She later told her parents who suggested she call police.

Police called his probation officer who said the last known address was in Fox Lake. He was arrested at his apartment on July 18.

According to Trkovsky he has a record of child sexual abuse and he failed to register in Fox Lake when he moved to town as required for convicted child sex offenders.

In addition to the sex charges, Reye will face charges he didn't register in the community he lived. Bond information was not available.

ALEC JUNG

Staff Reporter

Lindenhurst hopes they caught an area in their sewer boundaries which almost went to the proposed Northeast Facilities Planning Area.

Residents read the proposed sewer boundary of the Northeast (FPA) which showed 40 acres of the Culver property on Rte. 132, east of the village, not on the Lindenhurst area.

"A resident was surprised to see it in the paper and called the village hall," Mayor Paul Baumunk said. "I want to thank them for noticing."

Baumunk, James Stevens, village administrator, and Paul Phillips, village attorney, contacted the property owner. Baumunk said the landowner told them he wasn't given all the facts and the village has notified the county on the matter.

A hearing will be held on the boundaries on Aug. 9. Baumunk said he expects the Culver site to be listed in Lindenhurst's sewer boundary area.

The village had lost out in a bid to obtain the Northeast FPA which stretches from the Wisconsin border to Route 45 to the west and the tollway to the east.

The FPA will be serviced by Lake County and an $8.4 million sewer facility will be constructed in Old Mill Creek to service the county area.

In other business, the village approved to pay for the cost of engineering the improvement for the infamous Beck and Valley Rds. bump. The engineering cost is projected at $2,450.

If the state records aren't complete the cost could rise to $3,000 if soil borings are needed.

The 50-100 foot area, according to Stevens, is a soft area probably shifting underground.

In 1989, the state and the village combined for the project. The cost for repair of the bump is estimated at around $30,000.

TINA L. SWIECH

Staff Reporter

Everyone wound up a winner after a man lost his wallet and it was returned.

A Mundelein resident who was shopping for groceries at the Jewel Food Store last week in the late hours, was nearly home when he noticed he had left his wallet in the shopping cart.

Paul, a builder in town, not only had a number of credit cards, and cash, but also a $10,000 check folded up and placed in his billfold which was to be deposited into the bank the next day.

A woman shopper found the wallet, and immediately brought it to the front desk.

Gina Oddo, one of the night managers called the man after finding his name on the drivers license; but Paul had already turned around his pick up truck and was heading back to the store to see if by a slim chance, his wallet was still there.

The builder was pleasantly surprised when he went to the desk and was told the wallet had already been found! "I couldn't believe how quickly they reacted," said Paul. "I would just like to thank the workers at Jewel, but especially the lady who found and returned my wallet."

The finder, a resident of Vernon Hills named Marilyn was justly rewarded. Paul purchased a gift certificate for $50 from Jewel, and left it with the manager to give to the woman.

"She deserved something for being so sincere," said Paul.

The manager explained her feelings about the story with the happy ending. "I just think the lady was very honest," said Gina who added this is almost a rarity in today's world.

"And I thought he (Paul) was very nice to give her a gift certificate," added the manager.

Scottish evangelist to speak

Chain of Lakes Community Bible Church will host Ian Leitch, Scottish evangelist and dynamic teacher from Edinburgh, Scotland, on Sunday, July 31, at 6 p.m. This is the eight in a series of Outstanding Sunday nights throughout the summer.

Board President Marquart appreciated, to be missed

Thank you

At the July meeting of the Grass Lake School Board of Education, Board President Cynthia Marquart announced her resignation from the board. Although I knew it was coming, I hated to hear the official announcement. My involvement in Grass Lake School presented me with the pleasant opportunity to meet and get to know Cindy and my life has definitely been richer for it. Cindy moved to the Antioch area with her husband, Scott, and two very little (at that time) boys, Christopher and Thomas.

She immediately became involved in the school and community. When Chris entered kindergarten, she became a PTO member and room mother. She helped with the Growing Up Well program, field trips, room parties, PTO functions, etc. In 1991 she was elected to her first two-year term on the board and re-elected in November 1993 to a four year term. It was a pleasure to witness such a vibrant young person step up quickly to community service.

However, due to new commitments and time constraints, she found it necessary to now resign her position. It is always difficult to let good people go, however, everyone appreciates her two and a half years of service on the board, etc. and wishes her well along her way. Much success, Cindy. Keep us posted.

Careful please

If you own a pool/lake floating toy with a canvass seat insert for the little ones, never ever leave your child unattended while using it. I "had" such a toy for use in our pool. It was stamped "not a life saving device." Naturally, I would have known this with or without the stamped message. Naturally I would never leave a small child unattended around the pool or lake with or without such a floating toy. In my opinion, this particular item should have been marked "caution, extremely dangerous" or better yet, it should never have been sold.

As my daughter, Barb, little Alyssa and I were enjoying the pool, Alyssa was sitting in the canvass seat floating happily around the pool. Suddenly she reached for another object in front of her and the top flipped upside down taking her with it, and she was literally trapped by the canvas head-first underwater. While Barb and I were only a few inches from her, prevention of the incident was out of our control because it happened so quickly. Barbara quickly grabbed the toy and flipped it and Alyssa over. Other than swallowing a bit of water and being frightened, she was OK.

I tried contacting the company that made it and found out they were out of business. I wanted to have them recall the item that in my opinion was too dangerous to have been put on the market in the first place. I decided to share this water mishap with my readers for you to possibly rid yourself of similar pool items. My question is how do these things get on the market in the first place? They are potential child traps, much more dangerous than any inner tube or raft. At least if a child falls from a raft or tube, they fall free rather than being trapped beneath it, absolutely unable to resurface to the top of the water.

I can't stress strongly enough how lucky Barb and I feel. We were there on guard duty and all is well. I shudder to think what could happen to a little one flipping in one of these devices if the adult(s) on duty were distracted even for a short time. If you have such a toy, either exercise extreme caution or get rid of it. If you don't have one, think hard and heavy before buying one.

Bronze medal

order for 11 year old Dana Glewicz, a sixth grade student at Grass Lake Elementary School in Antioch. Dana recently competed in the Tae Kwon Do Fourteenth Annual Junior Olympic Championship at the Rosemont Horizon. This championship consisted of 4,600 participants from across the country.

Despite all of this heavy competition, Dana won a third place bronze medal in her age group of the girls 11 and 12 year old lightweights. Congratulations, Dana and a little birdie tells me there are an awful lot of people who are extremely proud of you.

Blessed event

Suzy and Will Brown are very happy to announce the birth of their second beautiful daughter. Julia Rose Brown was born in Tai Chung, Taiwan on July 13 and weighed in at 7 pounds, 10 ounces. With Julia's birth, 23 month old Kathleen Alveda now assumes the role of big sister. The proud grandparents are Dee and Joe Samson of Antioch and Genieve and William Brown of Alexandria, La. Congratulations, everyone.

ACHS

The 1994-95 school year marks a first for ACHS with a "mail-in" registration procedure. The deadline for this registration is today, Friday, July 29. Walk-in registration is scheduled for Aug. 4 and Aug. 9 from 3 to 8 p.m. The first day of school is Aug. 23.

The 1994-95 officers for the National Honor Society are Jon Schultz (president), Kevin Lueck (vice-president), Chrissy Hammer (secretary), Dave Lawrence (service secretary) and Steve Spronk (treasurer).

The Environmental Club of ACHS extends a big thank you to Ace Hardware for the donation of five, wheeled garbage cans to aid in their recycling efforts.

Congratulations are in order to Will O'Donnell and Steve DeRue for receiving blue ribbons for their exceptional work on the Tom Tom Newspaper. Also Deidre Erlenborn, Kery Stryck and Morgan Hirst all received honorable mentions.

Lie?

I was expressing, to a certain individual, that participation in Hometown Goodies tends to slow down a bit in the summer and sometimes it becomes mighty difficult for "The Lizard" to produce an interesting, well-rounded column on a weekly basis. This nameless person inquired, "Did you ever think about making up stories?"

I inquired, "How so?"

The response, "Using fictitious names and incidents."

My response, "Not!"

However, I must admit I am getting desperate. If you see a new run of births, strange sounding bloopers, or an implication that I am beginning to recognize the individual "Carp Whales" as they come in to feed, you will then realize my silent phone drove me to it. Call people! I know many of you have wonderful exciting things to share—so share! Till then, I will try to get a life and then bore you with it!

Board meeting

At the July 12 meeting of the Grass Lake School Board of Education, many items were approved or discussed. The board approved the firm of Eder, Ridell and Company for auditors for the 1994-95 school year; the bid from L&M Roofing Service, Inc. to replace a portion of the roof; J.W. Landscaping to maintain the outside areas of the building; Citywide Building Maintenance to clean and maintain the building; the hiring of Eileen Patricia Rice for the first grade teaching position and Barbara Bose for the second grade position. The board regretfully accepted the resignation of Norma Rubash as kindergarten teacher, due to her retirement.

An update was given by SEDOL representative, playground committee and recognition committee. Much discussion was held concerning the fine, detailed report of the discipline committee. A discussion was held regarding the gifted program and visitor's policy. This was also the first regular board meeting involving the new superintendent, Jim Beveridge. All board members would like to welcome him aboard and are looking forward to working with him. The next meeting of the school board will be on Tuesday, Aug. 9 in the school's media center at 7 p.m.

Applications

Due to the resignation of Board President Cynthia Marquart, there is an opening to the Grass Lake School Board of Education. Applications to fill this position are available at the school and completed applications of all interested parties must be returned to the school no later than Aug. 26. If you would like more information concerning this, contact the school at 395-1550.

Shop ANTIOCH Experience Antioch— Orchard Street

We finished off last week with a stroll down Lake Street, enjoying the many fine shops and boutiques. This week we'll visit and experience Orchard Street. Many smaller towns boast a "Main Street" which consists of their entire downtown. In Antioch we're fortunate to have several streets which join Main Street to form a larger shopping district, so when you pass through Main Street in Antioch, you've only begun to experience Antioch.

We'll use the Post Office as a "You are Here" landmark to help you picture Orchard Street. Wandering west from the Post Office you'll pass by the "Golden Arches." A bit further on you'll find Mama Nuccio's, well known for their delicious pizza and Italian specialties. An European atmosphere is found when "Mama" Nuccio arrives and is busy preparing her sauces and entrees.

Antioch is lucky to have two video stores. Action Video, located right next to Mama Nuccio's provides the personalized service that is so hard to find in today's world. They'll be happy to reserve a movie for you and are always giving parents suggestions for "appropriate" movies for the youngsters. If your VCR is acting up, stop by and they'll assist your necessary repairs. A bit further down the road is Video Explosion, located near Piggly Wiggly. They boast a large number of titles and a large volume of new releases. Quick service and a knowledgeable staff helps in your movie selection. The new addition of a "kiddie" area means a more pleasurable experience for Mom and Dad.

If you've already strolled by the two video stores you've missed one of the yummiest shops in town, Baskin Robbins. Thirty-one flavors, frozen yogurts, ice cream cakes, cones, sundaes, malts, just thinking about it makes you want to stop by real soon. Larry and his staff at Baskin Robbins pride themselves on being on a first name basis with most of their customers. When you walk into Baskin Robbins you're usually greeted by your name, and always with a smile.

Just around the corner is Piggly Wiggly, where you can enjoy the small town courtesy of yesterday with the necessary variety and selection of today. It's always enjoyable to spend a few minutes looking at the old town photos of downtown Antioch and realizing that although Antioch has changed in many ways, it is still the same family town it was back then.

True Value also goes back many years. Previously located on Main Street, it now occupies a new home in the same area as Piggly Wiggly and Video Explosion. You still find the same service and selection they've built their reputation on. It's wonderful to go in with a repair problem and be able to come out with a solution. The staff is always willing to answer questions and help direct you to the needed item.

A bit off the beaten track is Antioch Travel, servicing Antioch for over 35 years. Knowledge and experience are key in their business. Whether you need travel information for a family vacation or a business trip, let their 35 years of experience aid you in your plans.

As you've experienced the shops on Lake and Orchard Streets, you've probably noticed a common trait with all the shops—personalized service. This is usually sadly lacking in large superstores. When you shop in Antioch you'll find people who genuinely care about you and your needs. Most stores are owner-operated, thus guaranteeing the excellent service you always receive.

Think about this the next time you're standing in line at the mall waiting to pay for something, or trying to track down a clerk for help—making a purchase should be a pleasant experience, not an ordeal.

Loon Lake Sportsmen to hold picnic and auction

Make sure to keep your calendars open for the 10th Annual Loon Lake Sportsman's Association and Picnic on Saturday, Aug. 13. The event will be held at the Loon Lake Inn, located just east of the railroad tracks at Grass Lake Road and Route 83. The picnic will begin at noon and the auction is scheduled to start at 4:30 p.m.

According to Geof Ziemann, spokesman for the Loon Lake Sportsman's Club, the organization has stocked well over $32,000 fish in Loon Lakes during the past 10 years. This is the major fund raiser for the group.

Besides the fish stocking program, the club has also assisted Loon Lakes Management Association in the purchase of its first weed harvester used to keep the lakes weed free. The group sponsors fishing derbies for children and an annual ice fishing derby as well as food baskets for the needy during Thanksgiving and Christmas.

The group is committed to environmental issues and supports lake maintenance. This year, the club is planning to hold a gun safety course for children.

Everyone is invited to join in the fun. For more information call 395-8472.—by MARY FOLEY

Coast Guard Auxiliary hopes to start new class in Antioch

TINA L. SWIECH

Staff Reporter

The U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary has been holding boating safety courses in Ingleside for a number of years. Now they hope to expand north.

Representative and course instructor, Millard Rutkowski is ecstatic at the growing number of people who have joined in taking the course that meets each Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the Grant Township Hall. He is thinking seriously about having one in Antioch as well.

When a class was held there a few years ago, said Rutkowski, between 20 and 30 people signed up. And with the increasing popularity, about the seriousness put into safe boating, another course offered in the Antioch area may be just what is needed.

Both the Lake County Sheriff's Marine Patrol and the Fox Waterway Agency are encouraging boaters to take safety courses.

Rutkowski said someday, sooner than one might think, it may be mandatory to go through a safety course in boating in order to operate a vessel.

Crane applauds governors on health care plan criticism

Eight District Congressman Philip M. Crane said he applauds the nation's governors who have blasted the so-called Clinton-style health care plan which was approved by the House Ways and Means Committee. Congressman Crane is the second senior Republican member on the Ways and Means Committee, and voted against the committee-approved bill.

The governors contend the Ways and Means Committee bill would put 40 percent of Americans in a costly, government entitlement program.

"The Democratic governor of Florida, Lawton Chiles, declared the bill would be a 'disaster' if enacted," Congressman Crane said. He added that Governor Chiles called the bill a "top-down bureaucratic approach" that would not permit states to make their own decisions.

The House Democratic leadership, the congressman noted, has adopted the Ways and Means Committee bill as the framework for the measure it will bring to the floor of the House of Representatives.

Congressman Crane said another Democratic governor, Howard Dean of Vermont, declared that he was very concerned about the big expansion of Medicare. "The governor is correct in being concerned about this feature of the Ways and Means Committee bill," the congressman reported.

Lions ready for picnic, auction

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

The Antioch Lions Club and the Antioch Rescue Squad will join together on Aug. 7 for the 36th year to sponsor the annual Chicken BBQ and Auction. This yearly event, held in Williams Park behind the Antioch Library, will begin at 11 a.m. until 6 p.m.

The Lions and the Antioch Rescue Squad have a long history together. The Lions have supported the squad for over 50 years. In 1946, the Lions began active solicitation for funds for the squad. The following year, the Lions established a fund for the financing of the squad.

In 1972 the rescue squad members joined a statewide training program for paramedics. This pilot program was partially sponsored by the Antioch Lions Club. Assisted by local doctors and Victory Memorial Hospital, the rescue squad was thus able to provide immediate aid to victims of illness and emergency.

Prior to 1974, the entire proceeds of the BBQ and Auction were donated to the rescue squad. Now, the squad profits from the auction and the Lions apply the profits from the BBQ to their many worthwhile projects such as helping the blind, hearing impaired, and diabetics.

Complete Barbecue Chicken dinners will be sold for only $5. Carryouts will be available and locally grown sweet corn will be sold for only $1 an ear. Fresh desserts will be available along with watermelon slices.

The auction is scheduled to begin at noon, but participants should arrive at 11 a.m. to sign in. The event is a cash auction and items must be paid for in cash that day.

Auctioneer Herman Behm will direct the auction and traditionally everything from autos to zithers are sold. Anyone interested in donating any items for this worthy cause are invited to call the Antioch Village Office at 395-1000. They will welcome all donations including sporting goods, autos and automotive equipment, art objects, antiques, and any other item that may be of reasonable auction value.

Besides the auction and dinner, there are plenty of other activities to keep visitors busy. Events of the day include lots of fun for children featuring games, races, and prizes. Games are scheduled to begin at noon with six age brackets including young adults. Miss Antioch will also be on hand to help with the festivities. Free swimming will be offered at the Antioch Aqua Center.

A cash raffle was be offered with three prize winners. Tickets will cost $1 each or eight for $5. Barbecue tickets will be available from Lions Club members, Antioch Village Hall, First National Bank of Antioch, First Chicago Bank of Antioch, and the Bank of Waukegan.

Duck hunters can register for drawings

Waterfowl hunting blinds at several public hunting areas will be allocated by random drawings this month.

"Duck and goose hunters must register in person for blind sites and must be present at the drawing held immediately after the registration period to claim their blind sites," explained Brent Manning of the Illinois Department of Conservation.

Registration for the Chain O' Lakes State Park, and the Redwing Slough/Deer Lake Natural Area will be offered July 30, at the Oak Point day use area, one-fifth mile east of the Fox River on the south side of Rte.

173. Hunters will be allowed to register for only one of the two sites. Mail-in registration is not acceptable.

Registration times are from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

The Conservation Department said blind allocations are good for one, two or three years depending on the location.

To participate in the drawing, applicants must present a 1993 or 1994 hunting or combination sportsman's license and a 1993 or 1994 Illinois Migratory Waterfowl Hunting Stamp at the time they register, unless exempted by law. Applicants must be at least 16-years-old by the date of the drawing.

Registrants must also possess a Firearm Owner's Identification (FOID) card from the Illinois State Police.

If an FOID card has expired within a year of the drawing, it is acceptable for registration, but hunters are required to have a current FOID card before they can hunt a site in the fall. Applicants under 21-years of age do not need an FOID card if they are accompanied by an adult who has one.

Out-of-state residents must have a 1993 or 1994 non-resident hunting license for Illinois and a 1993 or 1994 Illinois waterfowl stamp.—by TINA SWIECH

The couple plans to settle in Antioch.

From page A1 school district would have covered most of Lake Villa Township with the exception of Emmons, Round Lake and Gavin School Districts.

Gonwa also cited increases in bonded indebtedness from surrounding districts such as Lake Villa Elementary District, Millburn and Grayslake High School taxpayers who would be required to pay higher taxes.

Gonwa said his main concern for Antioch Grade School District was the division of assets which would force the district to pay $2.13 million owed to the unit district, shorting the education fund and in 1995-96, possibly cause the district to eliminate three teaching positions.

The unit district was able to prove it had the size, the assessed valuation and curriculum to support the school. It also would provide a greater sense of community in the township, according to Gonwa.

"Evidence presented by several of the objectors, however, appeared to indicate the "better sense of community" within the unit district would be made possible at the expense of the financial hardship to several of the affected districts including a negative impact on educational programs," Gonwa said.

Heneberry feels the Committee of 10 is providing the best solution for all affected districts.

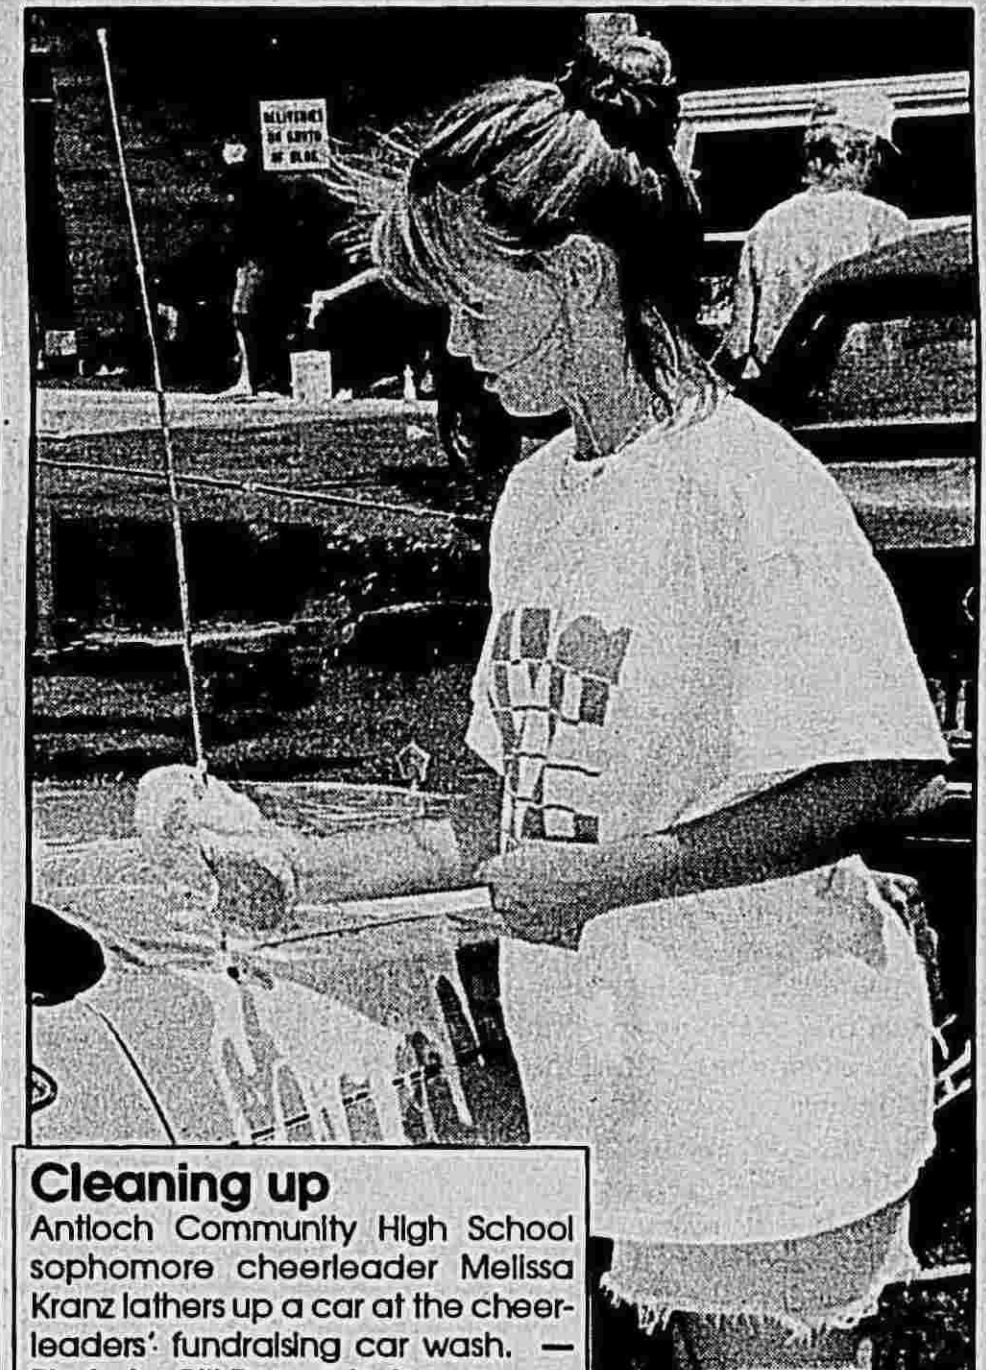

"We feel we have the best solution overall. It fixes a lot of problems instead of each district doing their own little thing," Heneberry said.

Heneberry said she hopes the state superintendent of schools will reverse the regional decision. She said in most cases the state rules with the region.

to run the program and also received curriculum ideas.

The program will be broken down into three grade levels: kindergarten through second grade, third grade through fifth, and sixth through eighth. The program will be held after school on Wednesdays, between 3:15 and 4:15 p.m. every week.

"The Family Association has the full support from our Principal, Sharon Henriksen, who is excited about the program," said Thain. "Fourth-grade teacher Jane Willems has agreed to be our faculty liaison."

Volunteer parents Dan Taylor and Thain will be running the kindergarten through second-grade group. The third- through fifth-grade group will be run by Mary Michehl and Judy Korecek, and sixth- through eighth-grade will be operated by Rachelle Kotelnicki and Mary Jane McConnell. Other parent volunteers include Monica Addison, Kathy Anastos, Mary Dziki, Diane Nelson, Yvonne Kenyon, Carolyn Schartz, and Kathy Stengel.

The program will kick-off with a falconer who will be bringing his hawk to the school. The program is set-up around themes attractive to children. The children, through discussion and hands-on activities learn math, science, literature, creative writing, improve spatial abilities, memory, and vocabulary in an almost effortless manner. It is designed to challenge young people in a fun way, so that they hardly know they are learning.

For example, one theme is bubbleology. Through the study of bubbles, which children love, they can learn elementary physics by evaluating the size, shape, and relative strength. Elementary chemistry is taught by having the students add different food colorings to alter the color of the bubbles. Students will be encouraged to write about the bubble experiments as well as write poems about bubbles thereby increasing their writing abilities.

Other themes will include "concrete ideas about concrete", the construction of kaleidoscopes, making recycled paper, origami, "the world of ants," the construction of rain sticks, and tessellations. By the way, tessellations are repeating puzzle-like patterns which emphasize math skills.

This innovative program is sure to delight both the students of St. Peters as well as their parents. It is open to any student at the school and is not a part of the school's after-school program.

"Everybody wants the best for their children," explained Thain. "That's what makes this such a great idea."

St. Peter's Family Association relies completely on donations and membership dues. The association provides a large number of other programs for the school during the school year. "We have gotten a lot of good programs to come to the school," said Thain of the association.

River

One of Ed's big concerns is that the safety of their end of the river has not been increased, and instead they have less patrolling of the waterway than ever before. "They have quit patrolling this part of the river," he said. "There have been only two boats in this part of the river all season."

Part of the reason, explained Ed, is that the Department of Conservation and the Sheriff's Waterway Patrol is unwilling to take what used to be a 15 minute trip, but is now a 45 to 60 minute ride. Recently, when the Pipalas called the Sheriff's department, the officers actually pulled their boat out of the water and drove to the tavern, instead of taking the nearly hour-long cruise.

According to the Pipalas, there has been an increase in thefts in the area as a result of this lack of patrol. This particularly angers them since safety reasons were cited in the establishment of the no-wake zone in the first place.

"With no protection, people are paddling up here and helping themselves," said Linda. "It is worse up here now than before. Many people are not following the no-wake restrictions and with no protection, people can do anything they want."

Initially, the Waterway Agency instituted a no-wake zone on the entire chain during the flooding last spring. After the restriction was lifted by the agency, the Department of Conservation then stepped in and established a new no-wake zone which, when added to the no-wake zone already in place, is roughly 4.5 miles.

Ed also has a theory about why the fishing is so bad. "The fishing is bad because the river is silting," he explained. "The water is becoming more shallow because the boats are not keeping the water moving. With the dam down in Wisconsin, and no boats, we are getting a lot of soil run-off from Wisconsin farms that is just sitting here."

While the Pipalas are river-front tavern owners, they say that they have not really experienced a large drop off of business. "Our business is down about 10 percent," said Ed. "Mostly six-packs and ice."

Instead, the Pipalas feel that their way of life has been changed for the worse. They speak of friends who would boat down the river to stop in and visit before the no-wake. Now, if the Pipalas want to see them, they end up jumping in the car.

"It's a burden," sighed Ed. And, he just can't see any benefit.

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

One bad inning cost the Lake Villa Bronco Travelers a chance to vie for the state championship.

Lake Villa lost to the Rockford Cyclones 8-4 in the state semifinal round of a double elimination tourney in the Mike's Memorial League. Had Lake Villa topped Rockford, the Travelers would have faced the Cyclones again for the state crown.

Lake Villa opened the state tourney by losing to the Cyclones 9-7. That put Lake Villa in the loser's bracket, but two more victories allowed Lake Villa to inch its way back to face the Cyclones in the semis.

After losing the opening game to the Cyclone, Lake Villa downed the Rockford Stars 10-4.

"We played excellent baseball. It was one of our better games this year," said Bronco Coach Mark Groth.

Starting pitcher Brady Schultz hurled the whole game for the Lake Villa squad.

"That was a thrill because they (Stars) were the tournament favorites," Groth said.

Lake Villa went on to romp Rockford's R.D. Roman team 12-3. Groth said starting pitcher Nate Zeller "pitched six innings of great baseball," while Jason Schuler came in to close the door by striking out two out of three Rockford's final batters.

Winning that game pitted Lake

Villa up against the Cyclones. Because Lake Villa already lost to the Cyclones, who were still undefeated, the Travelers had defeat them twice in the double elimination tourney.

Schuler put Lake Villa on the scoreboard first with a solo home run in the first inning.

In the second inning, Brad Groth reached aboard on an error. Matt Petkus followed with a base hit. Chris Chapman and Tim Clutter then connected for two RBI singles. After two innings, Lake Villa was winning 3-1.

Then came the inning. The Cyclones scored five times in the third on four hits and two walks.

"That five-run inning hurt us," Groth said. "It was just one of those things." Lake Villa never recovered and lost 8-4.

Groth, however, said this year's team accomplished the three goals it set out when practices began in February: win the conference, win the Gurnee tournament and qualify for state.

"We set our focus on those three things," said Groth, who added that the overall team theme this season was: "pride, passion and defense."

"I never had a harder working group of kids," Groth added. The Bronco team finished 40-12 overall.

Rounding out the Travelers were: Nick Kocinski, Mike Kral, Jeff Norwick, Jerrad Ponce and Tim Good.

Lake Villa Mustang Travelers win state crown

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

The Lake Villa Mustang Travelers did something no other Lake Villa Township Baseball team has ever accomplished:

The Travelers went undefeated and garnered the first-ever Lake Villa Township state title during the state tournament held in Rockford last weekend.

The Rockford tournament drew teams from around the state for the Willie Mays Division of the American Association Baseball Conference.

Lake Villa manager Ryan Pendergast acknowledged a total team effort with timely hitting and strong defense as the force behind the championship.

"Our team played great," Pendergast noted. "They did everything they had to win."

Before downing Rockford's Schlichting Excavating team 5-3 in the championship bout, Lake Villa had to surpass four other top teams from around the state.

First, Lake Villa routed another Rockford team 19-2. They then shutout a team from Joliet 10-0. They swiped an eight-inning game 9-7 by defeating a Rockford area team sponsored by GTE. In the semifinals, Lake Villa outlasted N.A. Clutch of Rockford 3-1.

The offense produced a total of 51 runs while the pitching staff of Kevin Pendergast, Shawn Schuler, Tom Chapman, Josh Rapier and Chris Kocinski held their opponents to 14 runs in five games.

In the championship game against Schlichting, Lake Villa scored first in the third inning.

Rapier hit a double with a man on to score the first run. Kocinski followed with another double to score Rapier.

Lake Villa held on to its 2-0 lead until the fifth inning, when Schlichting players crossed the plate twice to tie the game.

In the top of the sixth, Chapman lead off with a walk. After stealing second, Chapman advanced to third on a ground ball by Chris Chebney. With two out, Chapman scored on a base hit by Nick Severson.

After a hit by Kyle Davis, Schuler connected for a 2-RBI clutch hit to score Severson and Davis.

Schlichting managed to score once more. Chapman came in to relieve starter Pendergast who pitched 5 2/3 innings with nine strikeouts. Chapman was able to get the final batter to pop out to the shortstop to secure the championship victory.

Coach Pendergast said Rapier and Schuler hit over .500 in the series. He credited Scott Straub with great defense at first base, and Kocinski with a solid effort behind the plate throwing out several base stealers.

Trent Domel provided Lake Villa with speed on the bases, while Ryan Meyers also had some key hits.

"Everything came together at once," Pendergast said. "Sometimes you have good pitching and no hitting. Other times you have hitting and no pitching, but everything came together for us."

Lake Villa will be battling a Rockford team and two Michigan teams this week for the North Central Regional bid.

Should Lake Villa advance in the Midwest regional, the Travelers will be competing in the Little League World Series in Rex, Ga., next week.

Antioch's Lady All-Stars make sectional bid

A collection of 13- to 14-year-old softball All-Stars from Antioch are competing in its first District 16 sectional tourney in five years.

As newcomers to this level of play, Antioch quickly learned it is confronted against some rather stiff competition in the likes of Elgin and Prospect Heights.

Following a 16-11 loss to Elgin Monday night, Antioch can't afford to lose another game in this double elimination tournament.

Tuesday night's game against Prospect Heights determined whether Antioch would still be alive for the final rounds Wednesday or Thursday.

In Monday night's game, Elgin opened up to a quick, dominating lead by scoring seven runs in the first. Five of those runs came with two out.

"We made a lot of errors when they scored seven runs on us," said coach Dennis Murphy.

He remains optimistic, however.

"We just have to eliminate some of the mistakes and we'd be in good shape," Murphy said.

Antioch trailed 16-2 going into the final two innings, Elgin's pitching held Antioch's bats silent for most of the first five innings.

"Elgin has strong pitching. That's their ace in the hole," Murphy said.

Antioch did battle back by trying to forge a comeback in the final two frames.

Lisa Murphy had a double, two singles and 5 RBIs as she led the Antioch hitting attack toward a comeback.

Starting pitcher Laura Deutsch hurled six innings, striking out five and walking six. She also connected for two singles and 3 RBIs at the plate.

Kelly Periman and Sarah

Rockow also contributed with two singles.

Antioch's hopes for a comeback fell short as they left the bases loaded during their final at bat.

Other Antioch All-Stars contributing to the effort included Kristyn Lynch, Melissa Bach, Kristyn Franzen, Deanna Delgaard, Missy Blasco, Linda DeSalvo and Gina Miller.

"We needed some experience at this level," Murphy noted, and he is hoping the taste of experience they received Monday night was enough to carry them through the rest of the week.

Colts receive new life in post-season

The future looked dim for the Round Lake Colt baseball team following an 8-2 loss to Lake Villa II last week.

But just as the baseball bats were being put away for the next season, Coach Glen Jewell learned the team was selected for post-season play. The Colts (27-14, 16-6 Mike's Memorial League) travel to DeKalb this week.

"We were down, but the kids are looking forward to playing at state. The kids have high expectations," Jewell said.

Four players are back from last year's team which qualified but was eliminated in two games. Ryan Johnson, Bill Koch, Mike Allen and Neil Huber were all on last year's team.

Leading hitters of late for Round Lake are Koch, Johnson and Craig Hundley. Ricky Trampke, age 14, has been doing the job as the leadoff man.

"He does everything he can to get on base. He was most valuable player at the Cedar Rapids, Iowa tournament. He is a little, scrappy player who can spray the ball to all fields," Jewell said.

Koch earned praise for his defensive skills at first base.

"He has really stepped up defensively. He has been a leader all season. I believe he is the best defensive player in the league," Jewell said.

Round Lake downed Johnsonburg 9-4 and gained a forfeit win over Antioch before losing to Lake Villa. Johnson gained a complete-game win over Johnsonburg. Johnson chalked up 10 strikeouts.

Koch was 2-for-2 with 3 runs scored, hit a home run, had a pair of RBIs, 3 stolen bases and 2 walks.

"The kids are excited and have worked hard all year," Jewell said.

The Colts have players from Round Lake, Wauconda, Grayslake, Lake Villa and Carmel High School.

Chiefs win Racine tourney, prepare for bigger goals

STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

The Lake County Chiefs 12 and under baseball team geared up for national tourney play by winning a tournament in Racine, Wis.

The Chiefs beat friendly rival Fox Valley 10-4 in the title game, finishing 4-1.

The Chiefs had several outstanding performances at the plate in the five games, including: Mac Mansavage 8-for-13; Steve Ruh 8-for-17; Josh Boock 7-for-15; Jamie Jankowski 7-for-15 and Austin Turner 7-for-14.

"We played really nice," Manager Art Mansavage said.

Mansavage likes his team's chances at the national AAU tourney at Burnsville, Minn. starting Aug. 6.

"I think we are smarter and more of a unit than last year. If the same teams are there as last year, we have a good chance," he said.

Mansavage praised the play of his son, Mac. "Mac did a great job pitching and hitting. He had an outstanding tournament," he said.

Boock was praised for his catching talents. "He threw three runners out trying to steal," Manager Mansavage said.

He said his team's defense has really improved since the season started more than 40 wins ago.

"Defense wins games. So many games at the younger levels are lost due to errors," Mansavage said.

The tourney opened with a 9-8 loss to Glenview. The Chiefs led 8-0 at one point, but Manager Mansavage admitted to putting in too many substitutions at once.

Boock was 2-for-4; John Glatt of Riverwoods 2-for-4; Turner from Buffalo Grove 2-for-2 and Mansavage of Deerfield 1-for-3.

The Chiefs bounced back to beat the Brookfield Generals 8-5. Dustin Doblaf pitched three scoreless innings on a one-hitter with 7 strikeouts and 2 walks. Mansavage pitched the second three, giving up 5 runs on 4 hits, 4 walks and 2 strikeouts.

At the plate, Mansavage was 3-for-4; Boock 2-for-3 with a triple and Turner 2-for-3 with 3 RBIs.

Matt Bonuso of Arlington Heights gained the win in a 9-6 victory over the Palatine team. He pitched a 4-inning no hitter, walking 2 and striking out 3. Doblaf pitched the final three innings.

Mansavage had another 3-for-4 day with a double, Ruh was 2-for-4; Doblaf 3-for-4; Glatt 2-for-4; Jankowski of Lake Zurich 2-for-4 and Bonuso 2-for-4.

Ruh earned the win in a 9-0 shutout of Deerfield. He gave up no runs, had 3 strikeouts and 2 walks in two innings.

In the championship game, the Chiefs faced Fox Valley Royals, which had beaten them for the state title.

Mansavage pitched 4 innings, giving up 3 runs on 2 hits, 3 walks and one strikeout. Mike Bruszer of Deerfield came off an injury pitched the last three innings with 2 hits, 3 strikeouts and no walks.

The Chiefs are looking for fund-raising ideas and a bus for their trip north. For more information, call Mansavage at 945-9606.

The 11-and-under team finished third at the Summerfest tourney.

Although not going to national tourney this year, the team is making plans for 1995. Call Mansavage for details.

Baseball talents unite for common purpose

STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

They came from schools as close as three high schools could be. Libertyville, Mundelein and Carmel were home for these top-notch baseball players for four years.

But for a couple of months and in reality, just for the tourney, the Route 176 schools were able to showcase their best - all wearing the Post 867 uniform. One factor was the demise of Libertyville's Legion team.

Although they came up shy in their final goal of a trip to state finals in Sycamore, the runner-up honors earned at the District 10 tourney Final Four is nothing to sneeze at. Even after the 9-6 loss in the title round to Barrington, the team could still hold its heads high. Mundelein ends at 17-7-2.

"This was basically a senior team. We have had years with sophomores and juniors. I am super happy with the kids," Mundelein Coach Ted Muno said.

The Wildcats, Corsairs and Mustangs may play youth sports together, but are bitter rivals for four years. A diploma goes a long way to ending any bitterness.

"After you graduate, it is no big deal. We played well and really came together," Jamie Carruthers of Libertyville said.

Carruthers and many teammates are headed to college ball.

Carruthers is pegged for a first baseman at Indiana.

Catcher Matt Head is going to the College of Lake County, Erick Janssens to Illinois Wesleyan and Andrew Robertson to Illinois State.

Kyle Kessel was working on the details of a contract with the New York Mets as the Final Four progressed at the College of Lake County. That contract became a reality Tuesday.

Mundelein had thoughts of Sycamore - whose motto is "Life offers more" for much of the Sunday contest. Mundelein needed a second game to claim the title, but its chances looked good with a 6-4 lead through six innings.

Robertson, who was on base three times, hit a hot shot to shortstop which was ruled an error. That scored Schuler, who singled. Robertson later scored on an error for a 2-run lead.

Mundelein gained a 1-1 tie in the first as Mike Rapplean singled and scored on a sacrifice fly by Jeff Bunker.

Mundelein missed a golden opportunity in the second when it loaded the bases but could not score a run.

Schuler, Robertson and Paulson all singled and a rare misplay added up to a 3-run fifth inning. Carruthers had a sacrifice fly.

But it was pitching depth as the 9-inning games took their toll on Mundelein. Barrington scored 5 runs in a nightmarish ninth inning.

"I should have brought Paulson in to pitch to Ames (Erick). The problem is Paulson takes a while longer to warm up," Muno said.

Barrington still had a fresh arm ready for a second game.

Muno put the loss in perspective of the bigger picture.

"It is only a baseball game, not life," he said.

Baseball notebook:

Best comment-from-the-stands came from a Highland Park fan. "They can have germaniums, but let lights?" she said of Barrington's field.

Barrington advances with a 32-13 record, looking for its second Legion state title in five years. The champs peaked at the right time, according to coaches who played against them.

College of Lake County is getting to be the place where area teams have their season's end. Barrington's 5-run ninth inning brought back bad memories of Lincolnland's rally to oust College of Lake County team.

An informal survey of crowds at Barrington and CLC showed the White Sox still popular in apparel, and of course, the Bulls still have plenty of hats and t-shirts worn. But if you want to draw attention, wear a Cubs "If It Takes Forever" t-shirt.

Vikings show promise, ready for tilt

A fast start and two fourth-quarter touchdowns allowed the Lake County Vikings to go home pleased with their performance in the first game under a new head coach.

The Vikings beat the Chicago Thunder 23-13 at Dugdale Field in Waukegan. Coach Kurt Kampendahl's team will host Indiana Renegades July 31 at 6 p.m. at Round Lake High School.

"We started out quick, as we drove for nine and one-half minutes for a field goal. In the third quarter, we had some big defensive plays and had two touchdowns in the fourth quarter," Kampendahl described the game.

The Vikes and Renegades are both 1-0 in pre-season action.

The Vikings started the scoring with a 26-yard field goal by Kevin Richter.

Mike Draper caught a 12-yard TD pass from Todd Brown in the second quarter for a 9-0 halftime lead.

Wes Quist capped an early fourth quarter TD drive with a 5-yard pass to Brian Totsch.

Corey Haight showed he is an open field threat when he scampered 45 yards for a TD.

"That was the one which iced it for us," Kampendahl said.

The rookie coach said he was pleased with the defense and line play.

"We started unsure, but I was calling a lot of basic defense. Later, we used some blitzes and other defense. It worked because the players made it work," he said.

"We only had five offensive linemen and they had to play the whole game and did a great job. We ran the ball well," he added.

Looking strong out of the backfield were Haight, Reggie Matthews and Reggie Lawrence, according to the coach.

The special teams was also a strong point, led by Richter's kicking and a recovered fumble Kevin Burke which led to a score.

Register to vote at Lake County Fair

"Lake County Fair time is here, and our voter registration booth will be at our usual place in Building No. 7," announced Lake County Clerk Linda Hess.

"The fair runs July 27 to 31 and county clerk staff will be available from 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. each day," said Hess. "We'll be registering voters who have moved, changed their names (usually due to marriage), as well as young people who will be 18 on or before the next election—Nov. 8.

"In order to register, you will need two forms of identification. We accept many forms, including drivers license, social security card, student I.D., military I.D., check cashing card, insurance card, etc.

"We feel it's important to make voter registration convenient to everyone in the county. Not everyone is able to visit an office during regular working hours," Hess explained, "and this is our way of helping folks get around rigid business hours.

"My staff and I are looking forward to seeing you at the fair. Be sure to visit us in Building No. 7," said Hess.

LAKE VILLA DAYS - AUGUST 4, 5, 6, 7

Water fights are traditional fun at Lake Villa Days

ALEC JUNGE

Staff Reporter

Lake Villa Days brings with it a steep tradition of watching a lot of people get wet for a good cause.

Every year departments from across the state come to splash water in "water fights." The fights are really a water tug-of-war as the contestants try to spray a giant ball into the opponents area.

Lt. Glenn McCollum of Lake

Villa Fire Department, said usually 20 teams come from various departments in the area. McCollum expects participants from Lake, McHenry, Cook, Dupage and from Wisconsin to compete this year.

Besides the fire departments, there are separate women's and men's teams. Last year about 25 women's and 35 men's teams battled for the first-place trophy. Lake Villa is the defending women's champ.

The businessman's fights registration begins at 10:30 a.m. on Sunday, Aug. 7 and fights start at 11 a.m. The local crazy women's fight sign up is 1:30 p.m. the same day and fights begin at 2 p.m.

The fire departments will square off on Aug. 6 at 3:30 p.m.

Lake Villa is one of the few places left to witness water fights. McCollum said many communities have dropped them because of liability reasons.

The main reason all of this takes place is to support the volunteer Lake Villa Fire Department. Money raised from Lake Villa Days go directly back into building and equipment for the department.

Taxes help fund the day-to-day operations of the department, but don't provide enough to pay for needed equipment and building improvements.

LAKE VILLA DAYS - AUGUST 4, 5, 6, 7

Lake Villa Days bring community together

ALEC JUNG

Staff Reporter

Lake Villa Days once again are here and ready to provide locals and visitors plenty of good old-fashioned fun at Lehmann Park.

The four-day event which benefits the Lake Villa Fire Department has rides, foods, games, bingo, raffles, beer and the popular "water fights." The festivities run from Aug. 4 to Aug. 7.

"A lot of people come from all over," said Lt. Glenn McCollum. "It's a chance for them to come to the area and see how nice it is. It's just a good spirited time."

The fun begins on Thursday, Aug. 4 with the midway opening at 6:30 p.m. The rides such as the Roco-Plane, Tilt-A-Whirl, Ferris Wheel are just a few of the rides.

"We expect more rides this year. We keep getting more rides every year," McCollum said.

The midway opens on Friday at 6:30 p.m., Saturday at 3:30 p.m. and Sunday at 12 p.m.

For food lovers there is much to feast on. Hot dogs, hamburgers, brats, nachos, roasted corn and sloppy joes are among the favorites.

The water fights are main draw as fire departments, businessmen and women all compete in separate competitions.

The local businessmen registration is at 10:30 and the fights begin at 11 a.m. on Aug. 7. The local crazy women's registration is at 1:30 and fights start at 2 p.m. the same day. The fire departments compete on Aug. 6 at 3:30 p.m.

Preparations are already underway. The area will be staked out this weekend and set up begins in earnest the three days prior to Lake Villa Days.

Peterson works on solutions for county issues

TINA L. SWIECH
Staff Reporter
Grant Township officials just want to make people aware that different government bodies do work together.

So does Chris Dems of Round Lake.

Senator William Peterson is one example of working together, said Grant Township Tax Assessor Betty Niemi.

When Niemi has a question about a bill that has just come out on the House floor, she calls on Sen. Peterson for answers.

The last time Niemi needed professional assistance, she was concerned about a tax cap and wrote Peterson a letter. "The response was immediate," said the assessor, who noted the senator was not in favor of the tax cap proposal.

"Bill Peterson has always been a concerned legislator and senator," Niemi remarked. She calls him "a working senator."

Most recently Peterson went with Niemi on a tour of the Fox Lake area, and the entire township of Grant, which is part of the senator's district.

He did it to get a feel for the area, and to keep updated with what's going on in the 26th senatorial district. Niemi said an area of concern was that of the Lakeland Plaza on Rollins Rd. and Grand Ave. Currently there are some vacancies at the once booming site.

Niemi then toured Vernon Township where Peterson is also the supervisor.

Peterson has also come to the aid of the Dems family of Round Lake helping them to work toward a solution for a flooding problem that has kept their backyard under water much of the past several of summers.

"He was there to help us when we couldn't find out where to get the answers," said Chris Dems.

The Dems' problems resulted for a deterioration of drainage titles placed under their property by farmers many years ago.

"Sen. Peterson got involved and help us to find answers," said Dems. Most recently, Peterson arranged for a meeting between the Department of Transportation and the Stormwater Management Commission to work toward permanent solutions to the problem.

"It's a problem that will begin to affect more and more residents of the county as these old titles deteriorate under the ground," said Dems. "Sen. Peterson wants to work on permanent solutions."

Peterson, a member of the Grant Township Republican Club has involved himself in many issues of Fox Lake and Ingleside and noted some of those accomplishments.

Last year, he worked feverishly with State Representative Al Salvi on the burning asphalt plant issue proposed for Rte. 12 just outside of town. The petitioners withdrew their idea several months ago.

State Representative Verna Clayton is another person Peterson said he has worked closely with on various issues.

Arbitrator's death parallels his life's work

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

The legal community of both Lake and McHenry Counties are mourning the passing of Workers Compensation Hearing Arbitrator Bob Haubrich. Haubrich presided over cases dealing with injured workers in Lake and McHenry Counties for the past 27 years.

According to local attorneys, Haubrich was an excellent arbitrator. Prior to his illness, he was single-handedly covering the 4,000 cases without the aid of a secretary, clerk, office, and no permanent courtroom in Lake County. On arbitration days, over 200 attorneys piled into the lobby in the Lake County Courthouse to try their cases.

"For over 27 years, both the insurance companies of employers and the attorneys for the injured knew they would receive a responsible, full hearing and an intelligent opinion by a dedicated public servant," said David

Decker, president of the Illinois Bar Association. "Mr. Haubrich's hearings were conducted with purpose and dignity."

Workers' compensation is a form of insurance used to pay for injuries incurred to employees at work. It is estimated that out of the 300,000 injuries as many as 65,000 workers' compensation petitions are filed in Illinois each year. Roughly, 15 percent of all these claims are disputed and this number seems to be growing. Claims that are disputed first go to a hearing arbitrator for deliberation.

"He listened to each case intently, ensured that the rights of injured workers were fairly protected, and maintained, at all times the highest standards of integrity," said Decker.

Ironically, Haubrich himself, was stricken with mesothelioma, a lung disorder, which was caused by asbestos exposure he received in a Waukegan plant where he had worked as a young man. According to Decker, Haubrich's one wish was that "his death would serve to remind us to always remain vigilant in protecting the work environment of our citizens."

Haubrich passed away on July 14 at the age of 64. He is survived by a daughter, Kirah, and two sons, Joseph and John. At this time, the Illinois Industrial Commission has not named a replacement.

Stormwater Commission approves budget proposal

The Lake County Stormwater Management Commission (SMC) at its monthly meeting approved a proposed 1995 budget of $856,814. The proposal represents a "sustained level of effort" and equals the 1994 budget.

"We want to maintain the current level of service along with the ability to solve some stormwater issues," said Ward Miller, director.

Serving municipalities, other agencies and residents in the way of technical assistance and coordination has been the focus throughout 1994. Bringing resources together to find solutions to drainage, flooding and water quality problems is paying off by way of comprehensively solving inter-jurisdictional issues and finding cost-share dollars. If the proposed budget is approved, SMC officials feel the level of service will remain high and some monies can again be put towards solving localized drainage problems, flood prevention and public information.

A vote on the county's entire fiscal year budget is expected in November, after going through a review by the county administrator and several county board committees.

SMC also approved changing the day of its monthly meetings from the third Wednesday to the first Thursday of every month. The change was made because of conflicts with municipal, and other agency meetings held the same night. SMC's August meeting is canceled, however the new schedule will take effect on Sept. 1, 7:30 p.m. at the Lake County Department of Transportation, 600 W. Winchester Rd.,

Libertyville. SMC meeting dates for the remainder of the fiscal year are Oct. 6 and Nov. 3.

For more information, call SMC at 918-5260.

Teen awarded $1.2 million

ISLAND LAKE—A 15-year-old Island Lake girl who alleged her pediatrician and hospital were careless in failing to order a blood test 4 days after she was born has won a $1.2 million dollar medical malpractice settlement in Lake County. The plaintiff whose name has been withheld, was born at Highland Park Hospital. According to her attorney, Patrick A. Salvi of Waukegan, shortly after she was born, the little girl developed jaundice. The case was settled prior to jury selection and was approved by Circuit Court Judge Bernard E. Drew on July 18.

Unit school suffers blow

LAKE VILLA—Supporters of a Lake Villa Township unit school took a serious setback when Ed Gonwa, Lake County Regional Superintendent of Schools recommended the state superintendent rule not to bring the unit issue to a referendum. The unit district would be a K-12 unit for most of Lake Villa Township. Gonwa cited negative impact on Millburn and Antioch Upper Grade School districts as the deciding factor. The state superintendent has 30 days to make his decision.

Graffiti ordinance adopted

ROUND LAKE BEACH—The village board approved anti-graffiti and spray can ordinances in an attempt to control graffiti in the village. Police Chief Ed Sindles recommended the board adopt the measure to give the police department another tool to fight graffiti. The ordinances would charge a $1,000 fine for offenders who were caught spray painting graffiti and would prohibit businesses from selling spray paint to people under the age of 18.

Auction and barbecue set

ANTIOCH—The Antioch Lions Club and the Antioch Rescue Squad will be joining together on August 7 for the 36th year to sponsor the annual Chicken BBQ and Auction. This yearly event, held in Williams Park behind the Antioch Library, will begin at 11 a.m. until 6 p.m. Complete chicken dinners will be sold for only $5. The auction is scheduled to begin at noon, but participants should arrive at 11 a.m. to sign in. The event is a cash auction and items must be paid for in cash that day.

Board to name chief

GURNEE—Gurnee's new police chief will not be someone already on staff. "We interviewed seven people, three from inside the department and four from the outside and narrowed it to two finalists, both from the outside," Gurnee Admin. James Hayner said. The announcement is expected at the Aug. 1 village board meeting. Hank Schwarz is interim police chief, serving in that capacity since John Ward resigned in March.

Farmers market 'mushrooms'

MUNDELEIN—The crowds of Mundelein's very own Farmers Market are evidence that an event like this is long overdue. After a slow start at the beginning of July, the market has grown to fill a good part of the parking lot at Seymour and Hawley, much to the delight of Mundelein Pride. All proceeds from the market will be used for another Santa's Cottage event this winter. Market hours are from 7 a.m. to 1 p.m. each Friday.

Board president resigns

ANTIOCH—The Grass Lake School's Board of Education has accepted the resignation of Board President Cynthia Marquart. Marquart, who took over the office of president in February, found she was unable to make the time commitment she felt the job deserved. Replacing Marquart as board president is school board member Mark Franzen. The Grass Lake School Board is now accepting applications to fill the open position on the board.

Board delays bid

GURNEE—The awarding of a bid for the satellite fire station ran into a snafu Monday. Contractor J.J. Henderson protested the bid of Camosy because all pages were not signed. That was a requirement of Jim Gage, project manager. As a result of when the problem was discovered, trustees decided to delay consideration of the bids until Aug. 1. The fire station, to serve the growing western area of Gurnee, is expected to be 11,000 square feet. The new station will be located on two acres just west of Hunt Club Road.

LHS to seek south campus

VERNON HILLS—Officials of the Village of Vernon Hills and members of the Libertyville Board of Education will be traveling through Vernon Hills Aug. 6 investigating potential sites for a new Libertyville High School. The Board of Education is searching for a 50-acre site to house a south campus. In addition to the former Nike site, officials will be looking at an 87-acre site just southwest of the Nike site and a 70-acre site just east of Nike. Vernon Hills officials said the village is running out of large parcels of land to accommodate Libertyville High School. Officials from both governing bodies said land on the John F. Cuneo estate is out of the question because it is planned for a 2,100-unit housing development.

Leaders support landfill

GRAYSLAKE—A broad-based coalition of residential and commercial neighbors of Countryside Landfill publicly declared their support for the expansion of the solid waste facility located near Grayslake.

The application for site expansion is currently the subject of public hearings before the county board. The Village of Round Lake Park, the Alter Group and the citizen's environmental group CLEAR have opposed the landfill expansion. Voicing their support for the expansion are: Linda Slipke, president, Grayslake Chamber of Commerce and Industry; Harry Kripner, president, Libertyville, Mundelein, Vernon Hills Chamber of Commerce; Tom Gliniecki, manager, Wolohan Lumber, Grayslake, which is the facilities closest neighbor; David Peregrin, 20-year Grayslake resident and licensed professional engineer; Tony Titus, farmer who is the neighbor of the landfill and current president of the Lake County Farm Bureau; Peter Tekampe, Round Lake Park farmer and the Grayslake Colts Football organization.

Fire destroys business

LAKE ZURICH—An early morning fire completely destroyed a more than 100-year-old building in the downtown area and left nothing except debris and rubble. It took 75 firefighters from 15 departments to put out the July 24 blaze at the Village Printer, 37 S. Old Rand Rd., after it started at around 6:45 a.m. The fire was extinguished at around 10 a.m., but not before leaving approximately 20 residents who lived in the second floor homeless. Two other buildings shared a common basement, with three businesses receiving smoke and water damage and temporarily being displaced. Lake Zurich Fire Chief Terry P. Mastandrea said they would not know a cause for the fire until the end of the week.

Dist. 95 sued for negligence

LAKE ZURICH—The family of a 16-year-old boy who was sexually abused by a school bus driver has sued Lake Zurich Unit District 95 for failing to take immediate action upon first receiving a complaint. Both the district and Angelika Palucci, 29, the former driver, were named in the suit which seeks more than $30,000 in damages. Palucci admitted to three sexual encounters with the boy, then 15-years-old, in December 1993 and January 1994. She also talked to the boy about the encounters, with the boy's parents taping the conversations unbeknownst to either of the two. The suit claims the school was negligent in failing to provide proper screening of Palucci before she was hired.

GRAYSLAKE—The Grayslake Library Board is examining yet another site for the new library facility. The consideration is coming after a firestorm of protest erupted when the library pulled out of a joint facility location with the Grayslake Park District and chose a downtown site on the former Hook's Lumber property. The new site being considered is south of Central Park on land owned by the Grayslake Gelatin Co. In a public meeting Monday, residents appeared open to the compromise as long as cost projections fall within the $4.5 million referendum adopted in November 1993. Opponents to the Hook's site claimed it is unsuitable for a library because it is too small and it sits adjacent to the railroad tracks. Based on public sentiment, board officials said they would pursue possible development of the Grayslake Gelatin site.

Country artist Chris LeDoux headlines Country Jam Peterson

ALEC JUNG

Staff Reporter

Chris LeDoux is finally coming into his own as a country artist after years of patience and persistence. With a solid fan base, he is now parlaying the hard work with his first headlining tour.

LeDoux, a former bare-back bronco champion, will display his singing talents at the Lake Geneva Country Jam as he takes the stage July 30.

He may be tagged with a western rodeo image but it suits him just fine.

"I don't mind that at all," LeDoux said. "That's what I am familiar with, the rodeo influence."

The traditional country love them and leave them songs are not what LeDoux's music is all about.

"The power of love songs are the ones I am able to relate to. I can't do something I don't know about. My wife (Peggy) and I have been so close and in love—I just do those types of songs," LeDoux said.

Last year was an exciting year for LeDoux with album "Under This Old Hat," which spawned the hit "Cadillac Ranch." "It came by the studio and I just had to have it. Sometimes as a farmer you almost wish you could sell the farm and open a bar."

Also he toured with Sawyer Brown and with Pam Tillis. With Tillis the two split being the main act. Tillis opened in the east and when the tour shifted west he was the main act.

He is also known for his smash hit "What Are You Going to Do With a Cowboy," a duet he sang with Garth Brooks.

His cowboy image is genuine, he earned the bare-back bronco riding championship in 1976. He still owns a 700-acre farm. He rides only occasionally as touring keeps in on the road 250 days a year.

He takes his family with him when on tour during the summer. He has five children; Clay, 21, Ned 16, Will, 14, Cindy, 13 and 11-year old Beau.

LeDoux interrupted his family time for the interview, he was taking his family to the world's largest mall in Minneapolis. The day before he played to about 2,500 fans in North Dakota on a battlefield where the cavalry and Sioux Indians fought.

LeDoux said he enjoys playing the large festivals. "Not only are there a lot of people but you get to see a lot of the other artists you never get to see when you're on the road."

He feels the combination of the record label, Liberty and his 22 underground albums helped establish him as an artist.

"Having an underground following helped on tour but the major labels have the machinery, they know the outlets to get it to the public. It's been a great three or four years."

as "unique." It involves a bridge built in the 1920's which is partly in Lake County, partly in McHenry County thus partly in his district.

Apparently residents on Bay View Lane are concerned the concrete bridge is in need of repair, and they don't know who's going to do it.

Peterson, working along with Crystal Lake's State Representative Dick Klemm and Grant Township Highway Department head, Jack Kiesgen did have the state agree to do the maintenance on the bridge.

Nunda Township however, would have to widen the road, and that is still being worked on, said Peterson.

Describing other topics the senator has been occupied with in Grant Township, he stopped for a moment and from his Vernon Township office explained "I've been very active up there."

Volo Bog is another issue about which the senator is concerned. Speaking about the Richmond-Waukegan Tollway proposed to continue from the Rte. 53 extension, Peterson said, "I want to make sure they avoid the Volo Bog by all costs." Plans show the road going through the center of the Bog site.

One of the most important ideas brought into Chain O' Lakes, is one the senator supports.

"I'm supportive of a riverboat for the Fox Lake Community," Peterson said. "I introduced an amendment to the bill for Fox Lake to get a license. We want to make sure Fox Lake gets consideration when we sit down at the table (in Springfield)," said the senator.

Profits from riverboat revenue are "phenomenal" he said. Peterson figures all the riverboats in Illinois generated about $160 million this last fiscal year and state tax for gambling is the highest of anything—20 percent on the dollar.

Communities that contain riverboats collect between 20 to 25 million dollars a year, Peterson said.

Charter districts offer school hope

Next to the school voucher plan, the proposal for establishment of charter school districts offers one of the brightest hopes for freeing public education from red tape and mandates existing under existing school laws.

Ten other states in the last two years have enacted legislation providing for charter schools. An Illinois bill was defeated in the Democratic-dominated House Education Committee this year on a straight party-line vote.

Leadership for charter school authority is being provided by the Illinois Chamber of Commerce which has vowed to continue to push for a new look in public education. The Chamber worked with the Governor's Office, school management groups and other statewide business groups. Both statewide teachers' unions led the opposition.

The authority and autonomy of local school boards has eroded drastically over the years. In reality, the charter district would be similar to the school districts of yore when schools were run from the grassroots level by locally elected boards of education and not by politicians and bureaucrats in Springfield.

Crime gets nipped before budding

Community and neighborhood-oriented policing is being taken to a new level in a program designed to halt crime before it occurs.

The heart of the new program instituted by the Lake Zurich Police Dept. is the issuance of "informational tickets," citations that are funneled to the department's new crime prevention and community relations office.

Part of a trend toward pro-active policing as differing from re-active law enforcement, Crime Prevention and Community Relations Officer Jan Suttie likens her job to customizing crime prevention. Suttie tracks down citizens who leave car doors unlocked, open garage doors or overgrown bushes that provide a hiding place for would-be burglars. Maybe this is tame stuff, but these are the things that pave the way for law breaking, according to Police Chief Fred Clauser.

The Lake Zurich plan is more than an Officer Friendly approach. It amounts to nipping budding crime before it even becomes a bud. In the end, user-friendly crime prevention will require solid citizen support. It's a little early yet to tell whether householder "violators" are reacting to the informational tickets with enthusiasm. Give Lake Zurich an A for innovation and initiative, and watch and see.

Traffic ploy revealed

Editor:

Lake County, the Village of Grayslake and SWALCO have all allowed themselves to be bought out by a wolf in sheep's clothing—Robert F. Smith. He ran the often criticized ARF Landfill for years amidst the objections of residents and government. He's back again as USA Waste Services, Inc., but we're not so easily fooled—he's a major shareholder of USA Waste.

What's most upsetting to me is that USA Waste and Grayslake have signed an agreement to a secret pact that prohibits garbage-truck traffic through most of the village. The net effect is that all traffic must come north on Rte. 83 from Peterson Road—right through Round Lake Park and Mundelein.

Editor:

Readers are being misinformed by Rep. Cal Skinner's letter to the editor on Senate Bill 1510. This legislation seeks to clarify park and forest preserve districts' statutorily limited line credit. The alternative he suggests would involve a costly referendum for every small, limited bond issue.

This limited bond issue authority was granted to park districts and forest preserves 30 years ago and has been used, for example, to make repairs after a major storm, remove environmental dangers, repair deteriorated facilities and make senior citizen centers and children's playgrounds accessible to people with disabilities.

COMMENTARY

County zoning system favors corporations

MARTHA A. MARKS

In the wake of the Lake County Board's pro-Grainger vote, some have suggested that Mettawa-area residents who fought that mega-corporation bungled the job.

As one who knows those people and appreciate the effort they expended, I would like to present another side of the story.

The residents may have been politically naive, but who would expect them to be otherwise? They had built or bought homes trusting in local zoning to protect them from unwanted development.

It never occurred to them that anyone would buy up 20 percent of their residential village, disconnect the land from it, and get the zoning changed to urban. Like most of us, they stayed out of politics until it was their ox that was about to get gored, at which time they found out how terribly stacked against them the system was.

These people knew a year ago that they faced an uphill battle. Combine the resources for a billion-dollar company like Grainger with a pro-growth County Board whose chairman was openly on the company's side from the start, and you have a formidable obstacle.

Add the fact that members of three advisory groups (the Regional Planning Commission, Zoning Board of Appeals, and Planning and Zoning Committee) are appointed by that chairman, who can also grant "cooperative" County Board members such plums as key appointments, trips, projects for their districts, and sometimes even jobs and you have a system that is virtually guaranteed to favor corporations and developers over the county's residents.

In addition to a mail campaign to try to persuade board members to let them control their own zoning, local activists offered teams of information about traffic congestion, land available elsewhere, effects of busted zoning, the need to direct jobs and taxes to lakeshore communities, etc., believing they could win support with logic. They gave these facts to all the boards involved and brought in expert witnesses at their own expenses. None of it seemed to matter.

A few County Board members, whose minds were obviously made up in advance, refused to return phone calls or meet with the people whose lives would be affected by their votes.

The noteworthy thing is not that Mettawa-area residents could not stop the Grainger onslaught, but that they cared so much for their community that they chose to fight for it against such overwhelming odds.

I believe they deserve respect and praise for their efforts and their integrity.

Editor's note: Martha Marks is a resident of Riverwoods. She represents a south central Lake County district on the County Board.

VIEWPOINT

Time for new chant; change still watchword

BILL SCHROEDER
Publisher

Just two years ago, with business and employment sputtering a bit, the national media (with no little help from the Democrats) was pelting us with the chant "It's the economy, stupid."

The daily, almost hourly sloganeering, undoubtedly contributed to the election of President Bill Clinton. After all, there was an aura of legitimacy about the reminder. The U.S. economy was downsizing with a vengeance, putting more Americans on the job lines than we had been accustomed to and adjusting to global forces.

Now, with the U.S. preparing to invade hapless Haiti, the North Korean powder keg in search of a match, Serbian-Bosnian relations unresolved and famine in Africa searing at our insides, the time has come to flail the nation, "It's foreign relations, stupid."

Fair is fair.

Too bad America can't fast forward to 1996. The November election results might result in more than some liberal-loving Democratic Congressmen getting term limitation from fed-up voters. An electorate enthralled with change is finding that their new look in leadership is running out of gas rapidly. Americans are discovering that they traded a stodgy Bush administration for go-go White House kids who steal towels from an aircraft carrier and an ever-changing Saturday Night Life cabinet that passes for national policy formation.

style and south of a southern hemisphere Evita.

Today's times may call for the admonition of "It's foreign relations, stupid," but before too long America could be chorusing "It's the Clintons, stupid."

TREE TRIO—Extra leadership firepower is needed to run a successful event like the Victory Memorial Hospital Festival of Trees Nov. 16 through 20 at Midlane Country Club.

Three co-chairs will be steering the colorful event benefiting cardiac rehabilitation at Victory. They are Sue Keeley, Waukegan; Jan Knobbe, Beach Park; and Karen Skelton of Lindenhurst. Lots of hot weather work guarantees success for the pre-holiday event.

SAFETY GUY—Hats off to George Young, owner of Midas shops in Gurnee and Round Lake for backing a child safety seat project for young children. Young is offering certified safety seats for wholesale cost of $42 for parents. When the seat is no longer needed, it can be returned for $42 credit toward services. The can't-lose program can save a baby's life.

SEEDING FUTURE—The world would be a different place with more people like Bill Rockar. The retired cinematographer and television cameraman, 78, devotes a lot of time to the Land Conservancy of Lake County, a non-profit organization that manages open space and promotes land conservation.

Among the properties being managed are Dover Pond, a six-acre wetland west of Long Grove, and Walnut Creek, 26 acres in Hawthorn Woods. The organization maintains headquarters in Lake Villa and is looking for a paid director, according to the Libertyville resident.

Besides saving open space, one of Rockar's hobbies is growing things, like a mini-pumpkin that produces seeds of seeds for many valuable uses. He's making good use of the later years.

ON HIS OWN—Bud Light, the marketing and public relations guru, and Finch University of Health Sciences/The Chicago Medical School, officially have parted ways. While lining up new consulting retainers, Bud will continue to book talent and produce his popular mini-Broadway shows from his office in Highland Park.

RIGHT DAY—Don't be dismayed if you call the Round Lake office of First of America Bank-Northeast and a friendly voice says, "This is Tuesday" when you know darned well it's Thursday. The voice belongs to Tuesday Corey, teller supervisor, who is good natured about name jokes. "I've been teased all my life," she sighed.

ONE MAN'S FAMILY—Erika makes the most of overnights with her grandparents. She gets to sleep in—without interference from early-rising parents, two cats and the dog.

PARTY LINES

Edgar quest sparked GOP guessing game

Party Lines, the Lakeland Newspapers column of political commentary, is prepared from staff reports.

While State Rep. Bob Churchill (R-Lake Villa) still was on Gov. Edgar's short list for consideration as his running mate, Party Lines searched near and far for possible state representative successors should his elevation to the state ticket have created a vacancy.

Result? Slim pickings. The powerful Lake County Republican has done such an efficient job positioning himself that a field of suitors just doesn't exist.

A frequent mention, County Board Rep. Suzi Schmidt, issue oriented and an efficient campaigner, didn't pass political muster. She's too independent. One name that seemed to stick was Mike Haley, former mayor of Antioch. Haley has Republican credentials as a long-time aide in the Sec. of State's office and elective experience. And he hails from solid GOP territory.

Different view—Taking issue with a big city daily's analysis that anti-Grainger forces lacked resources and didn't do their homework is Jack Tindall, communications director of Citizens Against Suburban Sprawl (CASS).

Tindall attributes the Grainger victory to the political power of County Board Chairman Bob Depke and the fact that CASS wasn't able to budge a single vote from the five or six board members who are not locked into what he calls the "Depke pro-development" bloc. Come again, Jack?

As nominal victories, CASS sees "cleaning up" the Framework Plan as a plus along with the 257 acre Forest Preserve Dist. donation, the reelection of Rep. Carol Calabrese and the defeat of two pro-development board members in the April primary.

Duped?—Advocates of lake front development in Waukegan and North Chicago are fuming that County Board Reps. Angelo Kyle and Audrey Nixon supported the W.W. Grainger rezoning for the wrong reasons.

Kyle and Nixon are bragging that they obtained minority hiring concessions from Grainger. In reality, it was pointed out, Grainger already comes under federal guidelines to insure a percentage of jobs for minorities. Detractors accused Kyle and Nixon of "grandstanding" at closed door meetings with the slick Grainger salesmen.

No politics—Two subjects will be off limits when Mike Ditka shows up Saturday, July 30 for the 2nd annual Joe Marconi Celebrity Pro-Am Bowling tournament—politics and the current state of the Bears.

The tourney will be staged at Lake Zurich's Brunswick Deer Park Lanes on Rte. 12. Ditka and Marconi were teammates when the Bears really were Monsters of the Midway.

Bowling starts at 11:30 a.m. and continues until all entrants have finished. Proceeds go to the Leukemia Research Foundation. Marconi's life was cut short by leukemia.

Ready, waiting—When it comes to Republican succession planning, there are plenty of wannabees waiting for State Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis (R-Zion) to retire.

Already talking about replacing Geo are County Board Rep. Bob Neal (R-Wadsworth), Dr. William Dam, former mayor of Fox Lake, and Shawn Depke, Warren Township GOP chairman and a state employee.

The talk is cheap. The veteran Zion lawmaker is going as strong as ever. Geo-Karis doesn't know what retirement means.

Clerk campaign cooking—Republican County Clerk candidate Willard Helander can revel in the success of her fund-raiser at Country Squire as more than 500 supporters celebrated her election bid—a Grand Old Party it truly was. GOP bigwigs lending their support included Cook County State's Attorney Jack O'Malley, State Senator Adeline Geo-Karis, State Rep. Robert Churchill, Lake County Board Chairman Robert Depke and 19th Circuit Court Judge John Goshgarian.

On the Democrat side of the ticket, Kathy Ryg is racking up a star-studded fund-raiser of her own. Dawn Clark Netsch, Democrat candidate for governor, is expected to demonstrate her well-known billiards skills during a campaign stop at Slate Street Billiards in Vernon Hills July 30. With the help of straight shooter Netsch, Ryg is banking on her shot for Lake County Clerk.

Going off half-cocked—When former Mundelein Mayor Richard Foss passed through the village July 4, he was "appalled" by the Concord Homes sales trailer near the veterans memorial and fired off an indignant letter to Mayor Marilyn Sindles, with copies sent to VFW members and Lakeland Newspapers. Foss dedicated the monument in 1969 and considers the trailer evidence of "obvious disrespect for the gallant Mundelein boys who gave their lives as the Supreme Sacrifice." Unfortunately, Foss neglected to seek details of the arrangement, which has the approval of area veterans and "made all the sense in the world" according to Hank Metz of Post 7191. Sindles, who termed Foss' reaction "totally uncalled for," is preparing a letter to Foss explaining the temporary agreement which will result in an improved site for the memorial.

approximately 5 cents of your property dollar. Park district officials are sensitive to taxpayers' concerns and therefore charge user fees to raise about half of the local, annual revenue needed for their budgets.

Park districts get no direct state dollars. Schools have state aid. Cities and counties receive monies from the state's Local Government Distributive Fund, the income tax surcharge and the sales tax. Libraries receive state monies as well. Park districts and forest preserves are totally reliant on the local property tax for capital improvements. Taxpayers have a large investment in their parks, playgrounds and community facilities. Senate Bill 1510 protects the taxpayers' investment for the upkeep of these facilities and areas.

It should be noted that Senate Bill 1510 continues the tax cap limitation rates for taxes and bonds and we do not seek to remove them.

Tax issues are important for everybody. As taxpayers themselves, elected park commissioners feel that it is important that you know the facts and that you will not be misled by this legislator who has an ax to grind.

Promote youth tyranny

The U.N. Convention on the Rights of a Child is not needed in the United States. We already have a huge bureaucracy throughout the states and many laws governing, investigating and prosecuting child abuse cases. The treaty is much better designed for countries like Iraq or China.

If any of this is in fact true, I couldn't restrict my children from watching programs or movies that I don't deem appropriate, prohibit my children from associating in gangs or punish them for being disrespectful or swearing. My children could do things and not have to tell me because of their right to privacy. And these are just some of the problems that parents would face if this treaty became law.

I also understand that this treaty would cost taxpayers billions of dollars to implement because of the litigation costs as parents throughout the country try to regain their rights. The White House domestic policy office has confirmed these costs.

I don't understand the need for this treaty nor do I understand why the right of a parent to raise their children in the manner that they see as proper and in accordance with the law should be changed.

Our rights are guaranteed by the Constitution. If we allow them to be altered by outside treaties that change our laws without the usual safeguards used by our current system. We could find this a convenient method to circumvent the system of lawmaking used in this country today. I'm sure our founding fathers never intended this in creating the Constitution. Once this process is started where will it end? Will the United Nations rule the United States? Is this the start of a new world government?

Clinton discriminates

Editor:

What current proposal before Congress would do the following?

1. Discriminate against children with congenital conditions, denying benefits they now have.

2. Discriminate against the dependent and the vulnerable by cutting off services needed to maintain their current abilities.

3. Establish a National Health Board of seven presidential appointees with authority to dictate what type of care may or may not be provided, based on quality of life and guarded by cost containment.

4. Force doctors to report patients who fail to enroll in government mandated health plans.

5. Establish a national data bank of information, with tentacles extending into the most private areas of the doctor/patient relationship.

Answer: The Clinton Health Plan.

Ask yourself: Is this the Health Care Plan I want for my family?

Ophthalmologists offer easy access to eye care for older adults

The National Eye Care Project, sponsored by the Foundation of the American Academy of Ophthalmology and state ophthalmological societies, provides medical eye care at no out-of-pocket cost to older adults who might otherwise go without help. The project's goal is to reduce the number of cases of blinding eye diseases occurring among adults 65 and older.

More than 7,500 ophthalmologists—medical eye doctors—volunteer to care for those who call the National Eye Care Project's Helpline, 1(800)222-EYES. Since the project's inception eight years ago, more than 181,000 individuals have been referred to ophthalmologists. Richard Mills, MD, chairman of the National Eye Care Project, says the Project is one of the "longest running private sector public service projects in all of medicine."

For those without insurance or means to pay, services are provided at no cost. Otherwise, ophthalmologists bill the insurance providers and accept that as payment in full.

Dr. Mills notes that, "ophthalmologists, as a group, are very public-service minded." An article in the January 1994 issue of "Ophthalmic Surgery" indicates that almost eight percent of office-based patients visits are provided free of charge by ophthalmologists.

Participants must be U.S. citizens or legal residents, 65 years of age or older, and not longer have access to ophthalmologist seen in the past. For those who are eligible, the National Eye Care Project will match the caller to a volunteer ophthalmologist close to the caller's home. Every patient receives a comprehensive medical eye examination and treatment for whatever condition or disease is diagnosed.

Some potentially blinding eye diseases have no early symptoms. If you are a financially disadvantaged older adult who has not seen an ophthalmologist recently or suspect you may have a medical eye problem, call the National Eye Care Project at 1(800)222-3937.

The following services are not covered by the National Eye Care Project: eyeglasses, contact lenses or prescription drugs; hospital services; and associated services of another medical professional, such as an anesthesiologist.

The American Academy of Ophthalmology is the world's largest organization of eye physicians and surgeons, with more than 20,000 members. Ophthalmologists are medical doctors, educated, trained and licensed to provide complete medical eye care. Ophthalmologists provide comprehensive eye exams, prescribe corrective lenses, use and prescribe medicine and perform surgery.

Several heart-hitting facts to know

•Know the warning signs of a heart attack. 1. Uncomfortable pressure, fullness, squeezing or pain in the center of your chest lasting more than a few minutes. 2. Pain may spread to the shoulders, neck or arms. 3. Chest discomfort with lightheadedness, fainting, sweating, nausea or shortness of breath may also occur. If you have any of these symptoms, the American Heart Assn. says "Get help immediately!"

•Don't flirt with a heart attack. The American Heart Assn. says to reduce your risk: stop smoking; control high blood pressure; eat a low-saturated fat, low-cholesterol diet; maintain proper weight; and exercise regularly.

•About 500,000 Americans have a stroke in a given year and about 150,000 of them die, according to the American Heart Assn.

•An estimated 58 percent of adult Americans have blood cholesterol levels above 200 milligrams per deciliter, a level at which the risk of coronary heart disease begins to rise sharply.

Last year, residents of Hawthorn Lakes attended 48 concerts and musicals, took part in 24 theme parties, participated in 52 educational programs, went on four extended travel trips, and walked 3,605 miles.

They also flexed their way through 312 exercise classes.

Aging is important factor in onset of dry mouth

Remember how your grandmother always had a piece of candy in her apron pocket just for you? Well, chances are you were just the lucky beneficiary of granny's condition. Dry mouth, or as it is medically named xerostomia, from the Greek xero (dry), and stoma (mouth), affects about three out of every 10 adults.

Aging is an important factor in the onset of xerostomia, especially among women. It is not only an uncomfortable condition, but is one of the leading causes of tooth decay. Dry mouth can be caused by reactions to any of more than 200 medications, as well as several illnesses, including cancer, Sjogren's syndrome, rheumatoid arthritis, diabetes, vitamin deficiencies and hypertension.

As anyone who has been called upon to make an impromptu speech can attest, stress can cause the sudden onset of dry mouth, making speaking almost impossible.

Resorting to candy and mints merely compounds the tooth decay problem brought on by diminished saliva production. Normal saliva is part of the body's antibacterial defense system. When there is insufficient saliva present in the mouth, bacteria tend to flourish. So, creating a sugar-rich oral environment can cause devastating dental problems.

Schaffer Laboratories of Pasadena, Calif., has introduced Salstat-Tabs, a saliva-inducing tablet. The pleasant-tasting citrus-based tablets contain no sugar and are buffered to protect the teeth. One tablet allowed to dissolve on the tongue will physiologically stimulate the salivary glands instantly for short-term relief.

No prescription is needed to obtain Salstat-Tabs. For more information, write Schaffer Labs, 1058 N. Allen Ave., Pasadena CA 91104 or call (818)798-8644.

Laughs, love, and music highlight Barat's 'Twelfth Night'

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

The third season of Barat College's outdoor Shakespeare on the Green series, features professional performances of "Twelfth Night." This madcap comedy is based on the pursuit of love and mistaken identity.

The play opens to the love-sick Duke Orsino, played by Steven Kochler, attempting to woo the beautiful Countess Olivia, played by Laura Macknin. In the meantime, shipwrecked look-alike twins Viola, played by Letitia Hicks, and Sebastian, played by Anthony Crane, are washed up on shore separately, unaware that either is alive.

This sets the stage for the hilarious play as Viola, believing herself to be without protection in a foreign land, disguises herself as a man and the crazy and confused love triangle begins. Hicks does a wonderful job as the sometimes sarcastic Viola delivering her rapid-fire double entendres with Olivia. And, amazingly, Hicks and Crane do resemble each other somewhat.

Dan McGeehan, as Sir Andrew Aguecheek, one of the prankster guests of Olivia, is absolutely hilarious, as is Thomas Patrick as Sir Toby Belch and Ashley Hugen as Fabian. Betsey Means plays the clever Maria, who conspires with the others to play their practical jokes. Malvolio, the uptight steward of Olivia, played by Frank Nall, is just side-splitting.

Timothy Thillerman plays Feste, Olivia's jester. He was definitely in good voice on opening night as he sings a number of the songs in the play.

The artistic director is Karla Koskinen and the play is produced by JoAnne Muth. Koskinen does a fine job of juggling the difficulties of presenting a large outdoor performance while maintaining the integrity of Shakespeare's work. "I sometimes find it necessary to cut a script in order to accommodate See NIGHT page B10

Look-alike twins, Sebastian, played by Anthony Crane and Viola, played by Letitia Hicks, cause madcap confusion in the Shakespeare on the Green presentation of Twelfth Night. Barat College in cooperation with the City of Lake Forest present this free play under the stars July 29, 30, and 31 at 8 p.m.

Left, Evelyn Stanulis, Alice Odachowski, Frances and Theodore Stay and Bernie Remblake enjoy the gorgeous scenery as they get set to board a chopper on the "Juneau and Great Glacier Helicopter Expedition." Fox Lake State Bank members Theodore and Francis Stay, WJJD AM 1160 disc jockey Bob Dearborn, Stanulis, and Odachowski inside the luxurious cruise ship Doers members went on last month. Dearborn and his family sponsored the trip, and held a special cocktail hour for all Doers members.

Alaska cruise: the pinnacle of all trips for seniors

TINA L. SWIECH

Staff Reporter

Pristine mountains and valleys with eagles navigating above, islands of ice which seals call home and miles of rugged beauty that solidify in your mind that there is a part of the world that is untouched. That is how an adventuring group of senior citizens describe America's last frontier.

The cruise of a lifetime that combined rugged beauty while maintaining the lap of luxury was truly a dream come true for the 35-senior citizens that took part in the seven-day event, sponsored by the Doers Club of the First Colonial Banks.

Participating members flew from O'Hare Airport to Anchorage, Alaska. Members who went were from The Fox Lake State Bank, First Colonial Bank of Lake County in Vernon Hills, the First Colonial Bank of McHenry County in Crystal Lake, and members from First Colonial Banks in Rosemont, Berwyn and Chicago.

In Anchorage the members, all 55 and over, boarded the Star Odyssey—an extravagant cruise ship offering fine dining each day and spectacular shows every night, as well as luxurious cabins and great viewing decks.

A big treat for the members was Chicago's WJJD AM 1160 disc jockey, Bob Dearborn and his family, who sponsored the holiday.

In honor of the Doers members, a special cocktail reception on board the ocean liner was hosted by Dearborn.

Although 90-year-old John Dewbray didn't participate much in the extra activities outside the ship, there was plenty onboard to keep him busy including a swimming pool, an exercise class, and gambling.

"I've been all over the country, but I've never been to Alaska. I've read about it all my life," said the 65-year member of an electricians union who is glad his hope had been fulfilled.

All Dewbray said the highlight of the trip was breathing in the fresh air and gazing out over the ship into the Inside Passage of Seward onto the huge ice formations known as glaciers.

Marion Munson of Crystal Lake was also in awe of the giant crystal creations. "All I can tell you is, this was the most beautiful thing I ever witnessed. They were just gorgeous," explained Munson.

At one point, the Crystal Lake resident observed six members of a seal family "just sitting there" on the huge piece of ice described as "an island."

Munson didn't think twice when asked if she wants to go back to the land of the Eskimo. "I'd go again," she replied.

Some of the sea worthy saw whales in the water. Alice Odachowski from Antioch just caught a glimpse of their backs and tails, but she did walk across part of a 17-mile long glacier—something many in Lake County, Illinois don't get a chance to do.

While heading up to Vancouver, British Columbia, there were many things to stop and do for those who wished to take part in the side trips.

Odachowski liked all the food on the ship, but especially the salmon bake everyone experienced outdoors. She then described the climb to the top of a mountain in an antique locomotive.

The "White Pass Scenic Railway" in Skagway went to the top of a mountain 20-miles up, she recalled. Then the train began to descend, and suddenly the train lost its brakes!

The skinny tracks up 200 feet from the ground remained as a hanger for the members who had to wait nearly an hour before another locomotive was sent up.

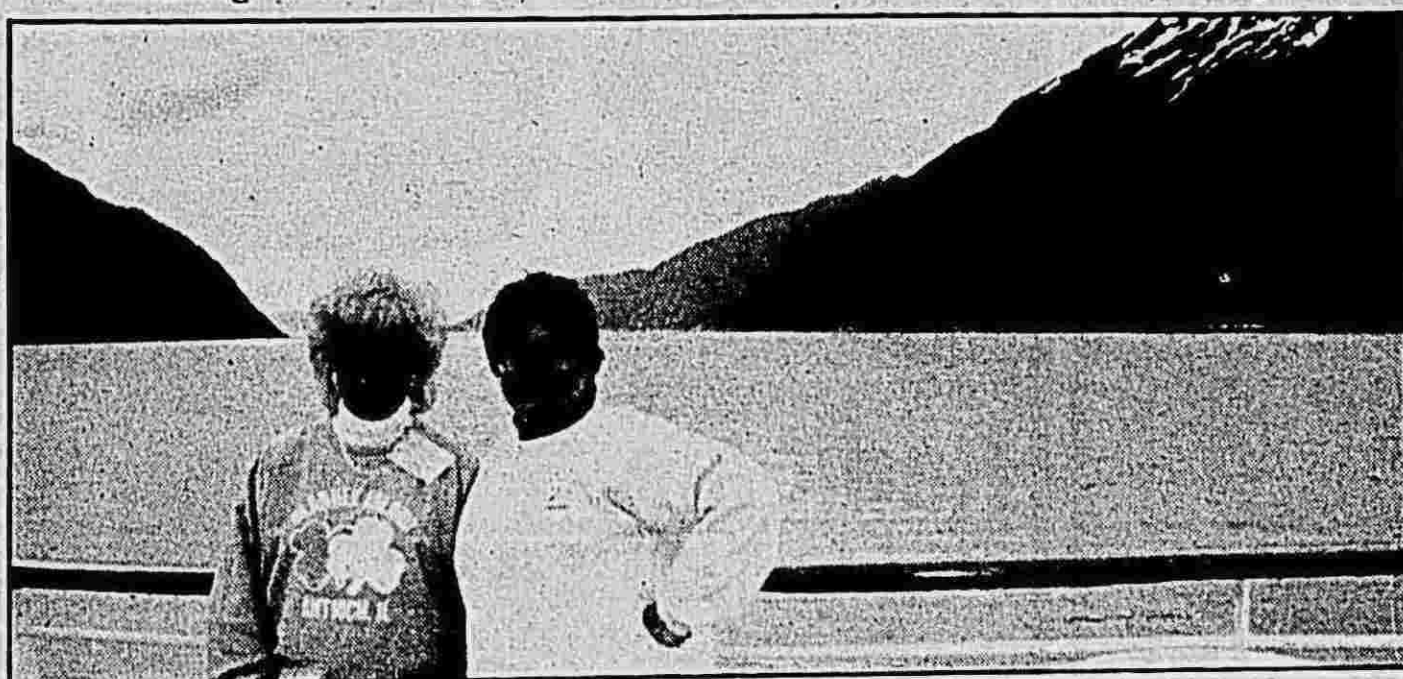

The second train was then connected to the one with the failed brakes, and finally everyone got down safely, said Odachowski. Wheew!

Another senior explorer gave her description of one of the best side trips on the whole vacation. "If you didn't go on the helicopter ride, you didn't see Alaska," said Evelyn Stanulis of Johnsbury.

The helicopter ride overlooking the snow-capped state was boarded in Juneau, and was called the "Juneau and Great Glacier Helicopter Expedition."

Several members, including Doers Club Coordinator for the northwest region, Bernie Remblake of the Fox Lake State Bank, dared to travel fast on an 1,100 horsepower jet boat which zipped around and between glaciers in Ketchikan City.

"The scenery was breathtaking," Remblake said of the first ever bank sponsored outing to Alaska. "Out of the many trips the Doers Club has offered, this has to have been the pinnacle of all excursions," she added.

Doers Club Coordinator Bernie Remblake and Susan Kohl of Fox Lake breathe in the fresh sea air aboard the Star Odyssey at the Doers Alaska cruise.

the type of audience an outdoor festival attracts," explained Koskinen. "My main objective is to clarify and distill the action. An outdoor setting provides us with less ability to control audience perception and sometimes Shakespeare's longer poetic passages do not work well."

The costumes in the play are just outstanding. Rented from the world renowned Stratford Shakespeare Festival in Ontario, Canada, they really dress up the traditional Shakespearean stage set which was designed and engineered by Steve Carmichael, the managing director.

The next performances of Twelfth Night will be on July 29, 30 and 31 held on the front lawn of the Barat College campus in Lake Forest. The performances are free as is the parking, and begin at 8 p.m. But, be sure to get there early. Music and an early evening picnic with fabulous food from area restaurants kick-off each night's performances starting at 6 p.m. Make sure you grab a blanket and picnic basket to see Shakespeare under the stars; everybody is welcome.

Barat College is a four-year liberal arts college founded in 1858 by the Sisters of the Sacred Heart. The school moved to their current location in 1904 and is gearing up for their 90th anniversary. Barat is located on Westleigh Road, east of Route 41 in Lake Forest.

Career success means going back to college

Jim Rock already had his degrees—a bachelor's in education and a master's in public administration.

But to get the job he really wanted, he needed business courses. The place he turned for that education was the College of Lake County.

"I was working as superintendent of recreation for the Round Lake Park District, but what I really wanted was a job in the business end of the field," Jim recalled.

Taking advantage of CLC's conveniently scheduled evening and weekend classes, Jim was able to complete the business and accounting courses he needed for career success.

Celebrating its 25th anniversary, the College of Lake County has helped more than 300,000 people like Jim write their personal success stories. Let us help you write yours!

Today, Jim holds the position of business manager at the park district, thanks in large part to his CLC experience.

"CLC gave me the educational background to fulfill the accounting requirement for the business manager's position. The college provides a consistently high level of instruction that allows people to advance in their current career or explore career options," said Jim.

Niagara Falls Revisited

by JIM WARREN,
PRESIDENT, NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

As busy as I've been here this summer, about all I could manage was a 24 hr get-a-way. So, last Saturday I booked the first flight to Buffalo, NY after we closed the agency and headed for the airport.

Why Buffalo? Well, only a short drive from the Buffalo airport is one of the world's greatest natural wonders, and one I hadn't visited since I was eight years old; Niagara Falls.

The drive to Rainbow Bridge, and the view of the falls as I crossed over to Canada, were already bringing back childhood memories of a family vacation long ago.

I stayed at a hotel called Michael's Inn, since it claimed to have rooms with a balcony view of the falls. I found the key word to be "balcony", since the only way I see the falls was to step onto the balcony, lean way out and look to the right. Still, the location was good, being only a short walk to everything I wanted to see.

I couldn't wait for it to get dark, since one of my most vivid memories was seeing the falls lit up in color.

Well, I guess when you're eight, you're more easily impressed. The old giant colored spots lights just didn't compare to today's many laser light shows.

Sunday morning, I stopped at a quaint sidewalk cafe called the "Secret Garden" set in one of the many flower gardens on the river. I had a breakfast of "griddle cakes", served with pure Canadian Maple syrup, as I looked out over the falls from my outside table (which I shared with a couple of hungry finches).

Then it was time to test another childhood memory. The "Maid of the Mist" boat tour.

After donning my "complimentary souvenir raincoat", I boarded one of the famous old boats for a ride to the base of the falls. This time I was not disappointed! As we head slowly into the center of "Horseshoe Falls", the water crashed down all around us with a deafening roar.

Later, I drove across to the American side. While the view was not quite as good, it was exciting to walk to the edge of the falls and look down.

Then it was time to catch the 8 p.m. flight home.

Justice—what a concept!

I imagine that all this coverage of the O. J. Simpson trial has merely whetted your appetite for tales of crime and the court system, so I figured you might like to hear about a different sort of trial. The defendant in this case does not even like football, his "attorney" is a court-appointed public defender who makes a rather small salary in comparison to, say, a Robert Shapiro, and who wears suits that would not look good on television. Here's how it went:

"All rise," commanded the bailiff. You'd think we were standing for Queen Elizabeth but, no, it was only the judge. I suppose his robes looked kind of regal, but he didn't have a crown.

Anyway, we all obeyed, because there was an armed guard in the corner who appeared to have a nervous twitch. Shortly thereafter, the jury was ushered in to their place at the right of the witness stand, sighing and shuffling in their seats as though they'd rather be at work or, better yet, the O. J. Simpson trial. The charge against the defendant was aggravated battery.

To make a long story short, the three witnesses for the prosecution, two of whom looked quite a bit scarier than the defendant, told three different stories of the events in question, except for their testimony that on the night of the incident, they each had maybe one or two drinks, despite spending a total of five hours in two different bars. Quite a. And, of course, the prosecutor made sure that the jury saw them as possible candidates for sainthood, despite some criminal history and a lawsuit in progress for a large sum of money, directly related to winning this case.

As for the public defender, it was hard to tell who he was defending, if anyone. His questions were bumbling, at best, and the judge overruled the few objections he made. He even expressed sympathy to the alleged plight of the prosecution's main witness. What a nice guy.

When his turn finally came, the defendant told a quite different version of the events that occurred that night, and the two witnesses that testified on his behalf confirmed his version of what occurred. Still, you could see the jury's shocked reaction when the prosecutor, in his best dramatic L. A. Law fashion, read off the defendant's prior convictions, though the offenses were non-violent and not at all similar to what he was being accused of.

It was no surprise to me the next day when the jury found the defendant guilty. After all, it's hard to believe a guy without a good lawyer.

The man is resigned to his fate; it's not like he hasn't been in prison before. Yet, as he told me, he had always pleaded guilty in the past—no sense lying when you're caught. But this one time, he really was innocent and thought that justice would be done.

Now where in the world did he get that silly idea? No wonder he was convicted! Just so he knows better next time, this is how our justice system works:

1. If you are innocent, you go to jail. 2. If you are guilty (and plead guilty), you go to jail for a short time. 3. If you are guilty (but plead not guilty and have a good lawyer), you go free.

That's the American way.

Good Food

Garden tomatoes make fresh tart

CLAUDIA M. LENART

Regional Editor

You sowed, fertilized, picked weeds and watered and now your labor is being rewarded with big, juicy, red tomatoes. They taste wonderful fresh off the vine, but if your crop is as prolific as mine, you may be looking for some other new ways to enjoy tomatoes.

The following recipe comes from Shepherd's Garden Seeds out of Southern California.

Fresh Tomato Tart

1 9-inch pie shell, pre-baked 5 minutes
3 to 4 medium tomatoes, cored and cut into thick slices salt and freshly ground pepper
1 tablespoon olive oil
1 clove garlic, finely chopped
1 medium onion, finely chopped
1/4 cup freshly grated Parmesan cheese
2 eggs
1 cup whole milk
1/2 cup grated Fontina or Monterey Jack cheese
1/2 cup chopped basil
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
2 tablespoons chopped chives

Preheat oven to 375 degrees. Put tomato slices on paper towels; pat slices to remove excess moisture. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. In a small skillet, heat oil, sauté garlic and onion until softened. Cool. Sprinkle 3 tablespoons of the Parmesan cheese over crust. Top with onion mixture and lay the tomato slices in a pretty pattern on top. In a bowl beat eggs, add milk, Fontina or Jack cheese, basil, and parsley, mixing until combined. Sprinkle with additional cheese and the chive. Bake 35 minutes or until puffed and golden. Let cool on a rack a few minutes before cutting. Serves six.

Mrs. Illinois, family woman

Mrs. Illinois Lacey Dyer

Mrs. Illinois/U.S. International for 1994-95, Lake Zurich's Lacey Dyer, is graceful and lovely. "That's expected of any queen," says pageant director Linda Wygon. But pageant judges look beyond pulchritude and poise when selecting who will wear the crown each year.

"My winners are ladies who have strong convictions about family, who are concerned about society and the community, and who are patriots," Wygon said. Contestants are expected to have opinions and know how to express and defend them in a diplomatic way, she said. "Lacey has a head on her shoulders."

Dyer, a 26-year-old wife, mother and business woman who is also pursuing a master's degree in marriage and family counseling, was crowned Mrs. Illinois/USI last month at the Woodstock Opera House. Thirteen contestants from around the state vied for the pageant title this year.

"Lacey is really representing closely the ladies she competed against," Wygon said. "She's done well for all of them."

The 5-foot-6-inch, 110 pound, hazel-eyed brunette entered the pageant in order to become involved in her community and to meet people. "I wanted to set my roots down," she said.

Ten months ago, Dyer moved to Lake Zurich from San Diego, where she said she was previously involved in two local beauty pageants. The Mrs. Illinois/USI pageant was her first state-wide competition.

As the reigning Mrs. Illinois, Dyer said she hopes to encourage women to become involved in their communities. She also aspires to be a representative for strong marriage and family relationships.

"The family is vital," she said.

For the next year, her duties will include public appearances at political and charitable events as well as modeling assignments. She'll also be doing publicity work for her sponsors: The Forest Grove Athletic Club in Palatine; the Cutting Edge Ltd. Hair Salon in Palatine; and Pasta Makers Restaurant in Lake Zurich. Dyer said she greatly appreciates the support of her sponsors as pageant expenses are high.

But the major obligation for Mrs. Illinois is to compete in the national pageant, Mrs. International, to be held Aug. 20 in Tyler, Texas. There, Dyer said, 65 "beautiful" women from the 50 states and several foreign countries will vie for the national title.

Dyer's preparations for the national competition include practicing for the interview portion of the pageant, getting her "walk" down pat, and assembling her wardrobe.

The busy beauty queen at the same time runs her household which includes Craig, her husband of two-and-one-half years, and baby daughter Victoria, and oversees her Lake Zurich-based advertising firm, Keeper Card.

Last month's pageant in Woodstock mirrored the national pageant, Wygon said. The competition was divided into three categories: Interview, evening gown and aerobic wear. upon.

A special element of the Mrs. Illinois/USI pageant is that husbands of the contestants are an important part of the program. They escort their wives on stage, and the winner's husband places the crown on the winner's head. "The pageant's focus is really on marriage and family," Wygon said.—by SUSAN KLEIN

'Forrest Gump' steals your heart

Academy Award winner Tom Hanks may have at least another nomination in the hopper with his latest film, "Forrest Gump."

Forrest talks slow, sometimes thinks slow, but moves fast, works hard and is as honest as the day is long.

So goes our hero's attitude toward most of the things that happen to him from the 1940s through the 1980s. The unusual thing here is that Forrest Gump becomes a part of almost every important and historic happening during those times.

Guess who taught the King how to shake that thing? Who spent historic time with three presidents, is sports and war hero, and becomes a millionaire when he invests in "a fruit company," (Apple Computers).

Robin Wright plays the love of his life as an adult, a love that follows him to the very heart-warming end of the picture.

Robin Wright and Tom Hanks

United States during that hectic time. Like Forrest, we all don't always use our brains, or even know why we do things, but if we follow our hearts, everything usually turns out all right.

This movie is full of surprises, laughter and tears and that's real entertainment, so we give "Forrest Gump" five out of five stars, a must see movie rated PG13.—by GLORIA DAVIS

American traditions live at The Village Tavern

Located in the heart of historic Long Grove, the Village Tavern offers the best of the 1990s in the exciting atmosphere of the 1920s.

Owned by the Sayles family, the restaurant has been around for more than 30 years, attracting diners from all over the county and beyond. After an afternoon of browsing in Long Grove's quaint shops, there's nothing like a meal at the Village Tavern to restore the spirit.

Come on in for great all-you-can eat specials, including: Tuesday evenings, Meatloaf with mashed potatoes and vegetable for $6.50; Wednesday, chicken served with fries, slaw and home made bread for $6.25; Thursday features BBQ Beef Ribs with fries, cole slaw and home made bread for $6.95; and Friday is fish with fries, cole slaw and homemade bread for $7.95 for adults and $6.75 for kids.

Other tempting dinner choices include a luscious top sirloin butt steak, available in two sizes, country fried chicken prepared the old-fashioned way in an iron skillet, and the Tavern's Pride baby back ribs. Pork chops, lamb chops and the Tavern's famous perch round out the varied menu. Everything is cooked to order at the Village Tavern. Dinners include tasty home made soup, a crisp garden salad and a loaf of Tavern bread.

If it's fun you crave, come to The Village Tavern on a Tuesday or Thursday night, when consigned items are offered in a spirited auction beginning at 7:30 p.m. Along with fish on Fridays, Bob Opal is featured as the entertainment for the evening, playing the piano for everyone's enjoyment. A Dixieland jazz band provides entertainment from 7 to 11 p.m. Saturday and 5 to 9 p.m. Sunday.

Busy shoppers can take a mid-day break at the Village Tavern and enjoy one of the many sandwiches, salads or smaller portions of dinner features. The Country Salad offers a different combination every day and sandwiches range from broiled chicken breast to everyone's favorite Reuben. Lunch is served till 5 p.m.

Customers will also enjoy sitting at the antique bar in the Village Tavern. Since it wouldn't be a tavern without beer, the bar offers generous pitchers to share as well as wines brought to your table in Mason jars. The usual assortment of soft drinks, coffee, tea and milk are always available.

The Village Tavern, located at 135 Old McHenry Rd., opens daily at 11:30 a.m., closing at 3 p.m. Monday, with the bar open until 5. Tuesday through Thursday food is served until 11 p.m. and the bar closes at midnight. On Friday and Saturday the bar stays open until 2 a.m. with food service until midnight. Sunday hours are 11:30 a.m. to 10:30 p.m., with restaurant service until 10:30. For reservations call 634-3117.

Red Noodle Welcomes New Owners

After 17 years, Red Noodle has new owners.

On August 1st, after 17 years and over 4 million satisfied customers, Tom, Judi, Alisa, Charlie and Sam Yingling are saying goodbye to Red Noodle. In April the Yingling family sold their restaurant to their long-time manager Jeff Stelter and his wife Julie. The Yinglings and Stelters have worked side by side since April to prepare the restaurant for the August 1st change of ownership. Each family has been eagerly anticipating their new lives.

J.J. Noodles

Italian American Dining

The Yinglings started Red Noodle in 1977 selling pizza, spaghetti, mostaccioli, lasagna, a few sandwiches, and their now famous homemade cheesecake. Through the years the menu was expanded to meet the tastes of the customers. The menu now offers 13 different varieties of pasta, thin and deep dish pizza, many appetizers, a variety of plain and specialty sandwiches, several meal-size salads, and your choice of up to 20 different homemade desserts in the revolving dessert case. As word of this great family restaurant spread so did the customer count grow. In 1987 after 10 years in business at the location in the Round Lake Commons shopping center, Tom and Judi Yingling expanded the restaurant to accommodate the growing clientele. The new building was built just north of the Rollins/83 intersection on Hwy. 83. The Red Noodle has experienced years of continued success in the present location.

The 1987 expansion brought the Yinglings the good fortune of hiring Jeff Stelter as their chef and manager. Jeff's restaurant background started when he was a boy. His grandparents ran the Holiday Inn hotel and restaurant on Washington Island, WI. As a result of spending time with his grandparents, he started developing an interest in the restaurant business at a very young age. The Red Noodle's customers have enjoyed the results of his cooking creativity for the past 7 years.

Julie is a family friend and began working at Red Noodle in high school. Besides being a good friend, her expertise in the dining room made her a valued employee for the Yingling family. The Stelters' marriage was the result of a little Red Noodle matchmaking. Jeff and Julie added Jeff Jr. to their family in July '93.

The Yingling family is eagerly anticipating their retirement from the demands of the restaurant business. The children have grown-up in the business and have benefitted from the experience of being a part of a family business.

Tom and Judi are delighted to be turning the restaurant over to such capable people. When the Yingling family leaves, they will be taking the Red Noodle name with them. On August 1st, the Red Noodle will become J.J. Noodles. The name represents the continuity of an established, successful business along with a bright new future for the new owners. The Yinglings wish to thank all their loyal customers from near and far for 17 wonderful years in business. They'd also like to thank the wonderful Red Noodle employees who helped to make Red Noodle a successful business. They wish Jeff, Julie and Jeff Jr. many years success and happiness at J.J. Noodles Restaurant.

Goodbye, Good Luck, God Bless You!

'Baby That's Rock 'n' Roll'

The Royal George Theater, 1641 N. Halsted, Chicago, is swinging and swaying with probably the summer's hottest musical revue—"Baby That's Rock 'n' Roll, The Songs of Leiber and Stoller."

A polished nine-member cast of Broadway veterans work their way in song and dance through some 40 numbers written in the '50s and '60s by the prolific Jerry Leiber and Mike Stoller.

It's a mix of pure rock 'n' roll to gospel to jazz to bossa nova. And in just under two hours, director Otis Sallid and his high-powered entertainers do a wonderful job of transporting their audiences back to a gentler, more innocent era.

Remember "Love Potion Number 9," "Yakety-Yak," "Jailhouse Rock," "Poison Ivy," "On Broadway," "There Goes My Baby?" Those are a few of this talented team's original creations.

B.J. Crosby is a vocal wizard with "Hound Dog," a Leiber/Stoller classic popularized by Elvis Presley. In "Saved," a passionate gospel piece, once Crosby gets a purchase on a high note, she never lets go.

Ken Ard is moving in "Spanish Harlem," while Victor Cook is unforgettable with his soul-stirring "I (Who Have Nothing)." Meanwhile, Patrick Owens, with his deep but mellow voice, is a crowd pleaser in "Riot in Cell Block No. 9."

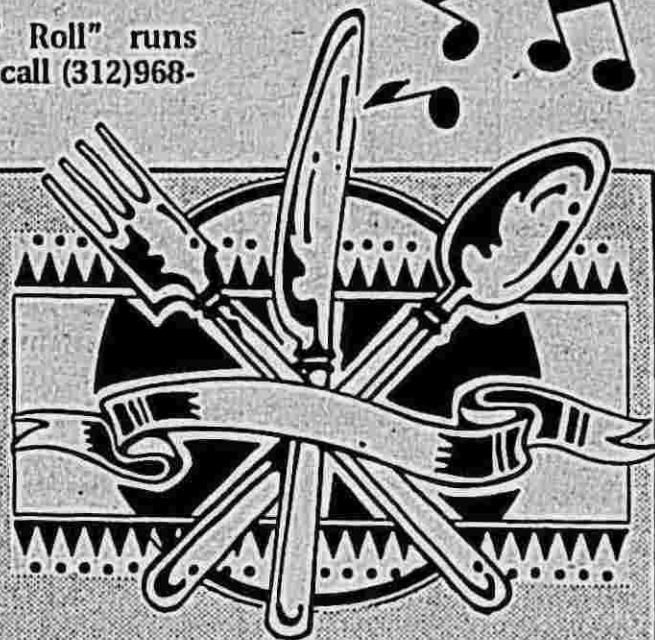

Music, under the direction of David Keyes, is always on target. And the costumes, lighting and scenery are handled with imagination. Especially fun: "Shoppin' for Clothes," which features some clever stagecraft in the form of animated suits.

"Baby That's Rock 'n' Roll" runs through Aug. 7. For tickets call (312)968-9000.—by TOM WITOM

Newspapers

Lip Service is a phone-in column presented as a feature of Lakeland Newspapers. Lakeland Newspapers makes no claim to the authenticity of the statements. Lakeland Newspapers does not claim the content or the subject matter as fact, but as the personal opinion of the caller. Lakeland Newspapers reserves the right to edit copy or to refrain from printing a message. Call in at 223-8073 and leave your message 24-hours a day. Although the call is anonymous, please leave your village name.

Salvi principles

I read the newspaper article on Al Salvi and would like to thank him for not always going with the flow, but instead voting on his principles. Thank you, Al.

COBRA guarantee

This is in response to the woman who said she could not get health insurance after divorcing. There are laws, called COBRA, that will cover you through your former insurance for at least 18 months. However, she will have to pay the insurance premiums.

Double time

This is to the Grant Township assessor's office. I would like to know why the township does not employ other people instead of that woman's husband, who is also a full-time employee elsewhere?

Bus-full of taxes

Are you young taxpayers in Lake Zurich sleeping? They are getting what they deserve because they don't show up to vote and then they complain about what happens. Have you seen the Pace buses around town? They are empty. Somebody has a job, driving an empty bus. And you wonder where your taxes go.

Hark the heron

Bravo to the Mundelein News with the photo of the blue heron on page one. I wish to agree with the caption 'Endangered site.' I do not wish to have the Rte 53 extension built through the wetlands and endangered sites. I am also against the Grainger plan and agree with Lakeland Newspapers editorial viewpoint on the subject.

Spare a blade

Why put a library building and park area in our open space in Central Park? Do we have to cover every square inch of grass with asphalt and brick? As for the railroad going by the library site, it goes by Central

Railroad crossings

Those concerned about the railroad tracks should also be concerned about them at the Lake St entrance in Central Park. There are also railroad tracks at two other parks in Grayslake.

Postal approval

I think the Wauconda post office is doing a good job and the people at the counter are very friendly. The postmaster is also doing a good job. It is too bad that people have nothing better to do so they complain.

Free costs money

It seems the chicken man in Round Lake Heights has his brains scrambled. First, he turns down a free community center and now he wants to buy one. Is there something wrong here?

Tickets to paychecks

Why is Round Lake Heights having another festival to benefit the police department when the police won't write tickets to people who are breaking the law? The police should be writing tickets to pay their salary.

Davis clean up

I'm glad Mayor Ralph Davis in Round Lake Beach is doing a good job and I like that he wants to make the village beautiful. Some of the businesses here are not doing their part. There is a business on Rollins Rd that paved half of its lot. Why not pave the rest of it? I live next door and I have all of those weeds coming in my beautiful flower garden. I don't think they paid for a building permit for that lot. There is another business in town that has not paved at all. The dust just flies when people drive out of there.

No cookie jar

We voted against giving the Grayslake Park District any money. They should keep their

Here she's not

I would like to know why people in Mundelein say they have a title in Miss America when they don't have anything at all.

Prison wax waiting line

This is regarding 'Prison waxed.' What is the matter with those guys out there? They get their boat waxed for free? Is it their own personal boats? They should reimburse the county. Those are our tax dollars. We should find out who these people are. Then we read this week about the treatment they gave people.

Dethrone him

I attended the Round Lake Heights board meeting. I have never seen a mayor so rude to his trustees, to the audience, or to anybody. He was elected mayor. He was not elected king.

Wrong mayor

There either was a misprint in the paper or the caller was wrong when they identified the mayor whose daughter is seeking donations for dancing school. Lip Service stated it was the mayor of Round Lake. She is actually the daughter of the mayor of Round Lake Park. I fully agree with the caller. Why should we contribute to her daughter's dance lessons? I am sure there are other young girls who would like the same opportunity. I think an apology should be made to the Round Lake mayor.

Caught on video

To the highest bidder. I am willing to take offers. I know how much the Rodney King video was worth. How much would someone offer me for a video tape of the incident involving the mayor at the Wauconda Rodeo. How much would that video, which includes the man who was punched in the face by the passenger of the mayor's car, be worth? I'll hold a public auction.

Blue flu

The blue flu is on in Wauconda. Members of the police department show up. Many of them are just not policing the village.

They are taking advantage of our ignorance, or tolerance, of their lax behavior. Be sure, there are a couple of great officers, but even their great performance cannot make up for the watered down efficiency of their fellow officers. You are making Wauconda look bad.

The five senses

I can see a snake in the grass and I can smell corruption. These abilities are very evident when I am at village hall or near the police department. Now I expect my ears will begin ringing.

No restrooms here

This is to the person that wanted to see fireworks in Fox Lake and complained the businesses would not let her use their restrooms. Many public businesses have their storerooms and restrooms in the same area. It is unfortunate that people go in the back rooms and steal products. Unless you are a restaurant that serves food and drink, you do not have to allow people to use your restroom.

Parked and trapped

I'm complaining about the person who designed the parking lot in Red Top Plaza in Libertyville. He had to be a moron. You cannot get in and out. It took me three lights to make a left hand turn onto the street on the north side of the plaza. Thank you Lip Service. I feel better already.

Polite police

This is a comment about the sheriff's patrol on the Chain O Lakes. I admit I was wrong. I should have been stopped. The Marine Unit Deputies that stopped me were very polite and told me what I had done wrong. They wrote out a warning ticket. I appreciated it because it was not a fine. I have been reading negative things about the deputies in the paper. My one contact was not a negative one and I don't think the whole unit should be condemned because of one or two people.

Drunken bunnies?

This is regarding the 'Help some bunny' Lip Service article. I wonder how many drunken bunnies this person has seen drive their cars into people killing or maiming them. How many bunnies have they seen See LIPSERVICE page B20 have head on collisions. If the Mundelein police were more concerned about bunnies than they are about drunk drivers or drunk people then I would be the first activist out there. I cannot believe that anyone would have the gall to say they couldn't believe the police were more concerned about catching someone who was drinking too much than they were about helping animals. That is the most ridiculous thing I have ever heard and that is why animal activists are called 'wackos.'

Donated fireworks

This is regarding "Dollar fireworks." Pete Jakstas spent $10,000 on fireworks, but he did not get anything from Fox Lake. Sure, they were late because of the weather and other things. If everyone who was sitting out in the boats would have donated $5 a per person, he would have come out ahead.

Ignorant smokers

This is to the Ignorant smoker who said they don't smell just because no one told them they do. Your nose must be filled with smoke. All smokers smell and you can smell them when they walk into a room. Your second-hand smoke harms other people's lungs. Be considerate. Bury yourself with your own smoke and don't hurt any other non smokers around you who care about their lungs.

All star examples?

I attended my nephew's all star baseball game in Wonder Lake. I was surprised to see their opponent was Avon All Stars from my home town of Round Lake. I could not believe how rude and crass their coaches were. Three cheers for Wonder Lake in keeping their cool. Remember Round Lake all stars, you represent your community and you made this resident ashamed.

One good turn

Thank you again to the nice guy in the red truck for changing my tire in the parking lot at the Jewel Food. I hope someone will help you some day too.

Fabulous fireworks

How can you gripe about the free fireworks that Fox Lake put on? So they started late. They do have safety requirements and maybe something went wrong before hand. Have you ever bought real fireworks? They are expensive. Thank you Fox Lake. My friend from New Orleans was on our boat and thought they were wonderful. And thank you Lipservice for helping me feel better.

No bunny police

Too many rabbits. This is for the lady in Mundelein who complained about the rabbit being injured. There are so many rabbits already that one injured bunny is not going to hurt the

Hyper smokers

This is for the stinky smoker. I'm not the one in the grocery line who smells. Maybe no one has told you because they are afraid and they know how irritable and hyper smokers are. God bless you anyway.

Police, not vets

This is regarding 'Help some bunny.' I feel if there is a dying bunny, it should be taken to the veterinarian. If the police are to be looking out for drunk drivers, then they should do so instead of looking out for bunnies. They are not vets. They are trying to catch people who are breaking the law. Drunk drivers kill too many people each year.

Stick to your guns

Hooray for the library board. It is about time some one in this community is trying to save the taxpayers some money. I see nothing wrong with the location of the library. The public library in Northbrook has been by the Metra station for years and it is still standing. The quality of the library is determined by the contents in it. Let us think about our senior citizens who spend a lot of time in the library. Stick to your guns library board.

Awesome fireworks

This is to 'Dollar fireworks,' better known as the Chinese astronaut. You need new glasses. The fireworks that Pete and his crew put on this year were worth seeing. They were awesome. This is one of the events that makes Fox Lake unique. Pete Jakstas, great show.

No mayor-speak

I find it appalling the mayor of our town says he has no say in what the county does in our village. I thought we elected him to do that. If people are complaining about the mess on Cedar Lake Rd, then they should ask the mayor to tell the county they cannot just come in here and tear things up.

Expensive patrol

This is about the Lake County Sheriff's Marine Patrol. I would like to ask the sheriff why we don't have any more day patrols but yet we have a Corporal, a Sergeant, and a Captain all assigned to the day shift. These are three guys that take about $200,000 a year for cars and men so we have no money for other cars and men.

Lightning fast

I would like to applaud the Round Lake Fire Department and the Round Lake Police Department. My mother had a lighting strike and I can certainly appreciate their prompt service, their compassion and understanding.

Prisoner walk

I would like to know if it is true the Sheriff's Marine Unit uses prisoners to wax and paint boats? Is it also true that they lost a prisoner who happened to be an ex-policemen who just walked away? Did the guy who lost him get promoted to a supervisory position? If that is true, maybe we should all lose prisoners and get promoted.

Good job, Pete

This is in response to one person's complaint about the fireworks in Fox Lake. If he has questions about how much Pete Jakstas spent, he should go over to Great America and ask what they spent. The shows were comparable. These fireworks cost a lot more than what you would buy on a road side stand. The fireworks were very pretty. Good job, Pete.

BUSINESS BRIEFS

Bank's first supermarket branch

WAUKEGAN—St. Paul Federal Bank for Savings announced that it will open Waukegan's first bank inside a grocery store, which will offer banking services seven days a week. The Waukegan branch at 1700 N. Lewis Ave. is St. Paul's first office located within a Cub Foods. The 900-square-foot facility is a new prototype for future in-store St. Paul branches and features a more contemporary, open look with extensive use of glass, brass and oak. St. Paul's 16 existing in-store branches average about 650 square feet in size. New features of this prototype office include a new accounts desk adjacent to the four teller windows at which customers can sit down to open checking accounts, purchase certificates of deposit and initiate other transactions. The branch also will have two private offices. The office features include a 24-hour walk-up Cash Station® automatic teller machine. St. Paul's other Lake County location is in Round Lake Beach.

Rockenbach greatly expands dealership

NEAL TUCKER
Staff Reporter

Rockenbach Chevrolet in Grayslake is building a new, state-of-the-art dealership, but company officials point out that does not mean customers should expect just a glittery showroom.

"People who buy Chevrolets aren't necessarily looking for the frills that you see in luxury dealerships, but they do want a service department that is modern enough and large enough to give fast, efficient service," said Gary Rockenbach, vice president and general manager of Rockenbach Chevrolet Sales, Inc.

That is why roughly 40,000 square feet of the new 55,000 square-foot facility will be devoted to the service department. With the number of vehicles Rockenbach sells per year, about 3,500, they should be employing 25 mechanics. Their problem right now is lack of space.

Currently, the dealership has room for 16 service bays, with 15 mechanics occupying them. The new facility will have over 30 bays. The mechanics are ecstatic, and Rockenbach expects customers to be pleased as well. Customers should be on a shorter waiting list and expect to get their cars serviced even more quickly than they do now.

The dealership now sits near the intersection of Lake St and Rte 120 in Grayslake, where it has been since its beginning in 1926. Over the years the dealership has expanded by purchasing neighboring lots and constructing additional buildings. Zoning of the residential community around them prohibits any further on-site expansion.

Last August, Rockenbach Chevrolet purchased an 18-acre parcel on the north side of Rte 120, between Routes 45 and 83. They will be developing about 10 of those acres in the immediate construction phase, with a bulk of the rest set aside for future expansion in the years to come.

At any given time the dealership has roughly 650 vehicles in stock, pressed into their 4-acre property. The new lot means they will no longer need to stack cars three or four deep to accommodate all of them. Rockenbach expects to stock around 750 vehicles when the dealership opens near the end of this year.

Due to excellent weather, construction of the facility is about three weeks ahead of schedule. Parts and service will be open by December 15. The sales end of the dealership will be phased in over a week as inventory is moved to the new lot.

The buildings at Rte 120 and Lake St will be sold or leased to businesses that meet village zoning requirements. Rockenbach has been amazed at the interest that has been generated. He said he has been contacted by a number of businesses including retail, mechanical and small industry.

The dealership was started 68 years ago by Gary's grandfather, R. G. Rockenbach. His father, Doug Rockenbach, is now president of the company.

Mind your manors

On the North Shore, entrepreneur David Gorter has become a sweeping success. Truth be told, David "Sid" Gorter didn't build his career up from the ground floor. Rather, he started it in chimneys, sweeping them as a way to earn extra money during college.

Today, the 36 year-old Lake Forest resident commands SSU Corporation, a multi-million dollar organization specializing in residential and commercial maintenance, landscaping and construction services.

Founded by Gorter in 1980, the umbrella organization represents three highly successful companies: Sidney's Services, Signature Landscaping and Shoreline Construction. All operate out of a 20,000 square foot office/warehouse facility, which houses an impressive fleet of 42 jeeps, vans, trucks, and a growing 75-person support staff.

Yet, for the self-determined Gorter, business wasn't always booming. In fact, while attending Denison University, then later, Lake Forest College, Gorter spent two entire summers managing a chimney sweeping service. His success at building a loyal client base led him to found his own company, Sidney's Services.

"I saw big opportunity during those summers," explains Gorter, "to create a business that could offer a variety of convenient home services all under one roof. And, to approach each job with a quality service mentality that most trade businesses don't seem to provide."

Over the last 14 years, Gorter's pro-active approach has helped SSU develop its successful niche. He maintains that by educating clients and remaining user-friendly, SSU will continue to earn the respect and patronage of its discriminating North Shore clientele.

"We never assume our clients are satisfied," says Gorter. See SUCCESS page C2

Illinois enters information superhighway

Gov. Jim Edgar announced his office is among the first in state government to join ACCESS ILLINOIS, a new information and communication service designed to link government agencies with trade associations and businesses, including the use of electronic mail through the Internet computer network.

"One of the keys to future business competitiveness is communication," the governor said. "ACCESS ILLINOIS provides an easy and inexpensive way for business and community leaders and others to obtain the latest information on government programs and services. It also is a cost-effective way to help government be more responsive to the business community and citizens of our state."

Sally A. Jackson, president and CEO of The Illinois Chamber, called ACCESS ILLINOIS an unequaled cooperative effort between business and government in Illinois.

ACCESS ILLINOIS is available to anyone with a personal computer, communications software, a modem and a regular telephone line. The modem telephone number is (217)787-6255, communications settings: ANSI, 8, N, 1. The only charge for users is the regular telephone line charge.

Jan M. Grayson, DCCA director, said ACCESS ILLINOIS will be a tremendous tool for both DCCA and its clients.

"Through ACCESS ILLINOIS, businesses can instantly get information on DCCA's programs and services," Grayson said. "Equally important, they can access this information from one comprehensive system. For example, business people can access information on procurement opportunities, find out about export opportunities, learn about upcoming seminars and workshops sponsored by their local Small Business Development Center (SBDC), obtain the latest information on environmental regulations, participate in business forums or get tourism information that can help them plan a weekend getaway in Illinois. And we continue to add more information to the database."

ACCESS ILLINOIS' affiliation on Internet also means ACCESS ILLINOIS users can exchange electronic mail with millions of people anywhere in the world. Gov. Edgar's office may be reached at governor.illinois@accessil.com. During the initial start-up, users contacting the governor through ACCESS ILLINOIS will need to include a regular mailing address, as replies will be routed through normal postal channels. Users also may connect to the governor's electronic mail box through a menu item on the main ACCESS ILLINOIS screen. Messages of up to 10,000 characters may be left for the governor through this method, and larger files may be electronically attached, if needed.

Users wishing to contact Grayson through Internet can do so at jan.grayson@accessil.com, or through the Feedback and Suggestions selection on the main DCCA menu.

To receive a brochure with further details about ACCESS ILLINOIS, call DCCA at (217)785-7546 (TDD users call (217)785-6055).

David Gorter of Signature Landscaping in Lake Forest firms a hedge behind a luxury home in Lake County. In 10 years, Gorter built the award winning business from a one-man chimney sweep to a 75-employee multi-million dollar operation.

MURPHY ON REAL ESTATE

Terri Murphy

Price pocket your home to sell

One of the many advantages to the multiple listing service for selling homes is the information supplied about the number of homes on the market. More important to understanding market position is to study the number of houses available in a specific price range.

As an example, if there are 10 to 15 homes for sale between $200,000 and $224,900 the buyer has a number of properties to preview assuming they basically meet the buyer's needs. As a seller, it may be necessary for you to be at the "top" of the list as opposed to being one of 15 homes for the buyer to preview.

Marketing a home for a seller requires constant watch of the position the property has with other homes currently listed. New listings, price changes and homes that come back on the market can change the marketing "window" your home enjoys. As a marketing professional, an agent will want to keep you informed as to the new additions and changes in the market place on a regular basis. The days of doing a singular market comparative report at the time of listing may not serve the full marketing needs of a seller and the market they are in. When you the seller understand the cycle of the market, the number of homes available to the prospective buyers and the properties that have recently sold and not yet closed can really make price adjustments easier to understand.

For example, in a given period of time, you and your agent see that the price range of recent sale activity has been around the $200,000 to 240,000 pocket. You are currently offered on the market at $247,900. A change in offering price to $243,900 is often the key to getting more buyer traffic that will result in a sale. Your home becomes one of the top of the list for inspection and thus gets more showings. The logical question for a seller is, "Why don't they just make an offer?" This is a normal response. The answer is often that a buyer won't appreciate or remember looking at a ton of homes. If you are one of the top selected homes to be shown, you get more traffic and a resulting sale. Many times we have sold homes with as little as a $1,000-2,000 price change. The seller enjoys the sale with less wear and tear on the home and family, and the buyer saves time and energy. Be aware of your "price pocket" to minimize your marketing time.

Robert Haubrich

Waukegan and Lake County lost a real champion of justice with the untimely death of Robert Haubrich on July 14, 1994 at age 64. Bob Haubrich was the Hearing Arbitrator of all Industrial Commission (workers compensation and occupational diseases) cases in Lake and McHenry Counties since 1967. He listened to each case intently, ensured that the rights of injured workers were fairly protected, and maintained at all times the highest standards of integrity. For over 27 years, both the insurance companies of employers and the attorneys for the injured knew they would receive a responsible, full hearing and an intelligent opinion by a dedicated public servant. Mr. Haubrich's hearings were conducted with purpose and dignity.

Mr. Haubrich, who heard so often of the diseases to which employees could be subjected in the workplace, was ironically stricken himself by mesothelioma caused by asbestos exposure in a Waukegan plant where he worked as a young man. His one hope was that his death would serve to remind us to always remain vigilant in protecting the work environment of our citizens.

Mr. Haubrich was survived by a daughter, Kirah, and two sons, Joseph and John.

Personal values and traditions tend to shape and mold our way of life. As time goes by, it is only natural that we should be mindful of the past while planning for the future. With the passing of time, we become more aware of the importance of planning ahead. While the preplanning of a funeral is not something that we choose to think about, it deserves our consideration and careful thought. How To Survive
The Job Search
By Nancy Sakol
Q: Dear...Search: I left my last place of employment at (name withheld) due to an argument with my former supervisor, without notice.
I realize that was unprofessional. The problem is, that the company offers a two week severance package when people terminate their employment, and when I called to find out about the whereabouts of my paycheck, they told me I was not entitled to any severance pay.
Can you help? P.Y. - Vernon Hills
A: Dear P.Y. In looking into your particular situation, your former employer pays severance to those employees that are dismissed. In your case, you abandoned your job, and therefore are not entitled to any severance. Always give notice. If the next company looking to employ you finds out (through references) that you failed to give notice, they are likely to figure that you may do the same thing to them.
Q: Dear...Search: Please settle an argument for me. I have been working for the past 17 years, always in positions where my rate of pay has climbed with every position I have had. Shortly after Thanksgiving it was announced throughout the company that there would be some corporate cutbacks. One of the areas rumored to be hit was the department I was in, and so, in a bit of a panic I started to interview with other companies. I interviewed with (name withheld), which has a fine reputation. I was surprised when I was offered the position and very pleased to learn that I had been chosen from six finalists. The problem is, the company offered me less than I was making. My salary was $19,000 per year versus a salary being offered of $18,720. They were not willing to flex and neither was I. My husband was fuming that I would even think of turning this down for a difference of $280 per year. I explained that while it is a small amount, I would never accept less than I was at. I should also mention that after turning the position down, I was in fact laid off three days later from my job. Am I wrong for having turned the job down?
S.T. - Libertyville
A: Dear S.T. Well, you know what they say about hind sight? I don't want to add salt to your wound, however. You did turn down what you felt would be job security for $280 per year. But what you probably haven't thought about is that it was turned down for $5.38 per week...and for $.13 per hour. This is a common situation among people looking for employment. Before you turn down that position because of lower pay...THINK! Think about what you really have to lose, and think of all you may gain! Figure out what the difference in salary is not only per year, but per day, per minute, etc...You may find out, as in your case, that the difference is inconsequential and the opportunity for growth more profound.

OMAHA

Walking through the stately columns supporting the covered entry, you realize that you are in for a treat when you enter the impressive Omaha. The free flowing floor plan will work well for a family with children at home, that want room for a variety of activities, or empty nesters that like to entertain and have room for visiting grandkids and other overnight guests.

This unique design begins with an open central dining room. With half-columns topped by an arched plant shelf, vaulted ceiling and skylight, this is the perfect setting for more formal dining. An adjacent stairway leads down to the full unfinished basement. Here there is ample space for a gym, home office or game room. Located next to the entry, for the aspiring musicians and artists in the house, is a sound-proof art/music room that allows privacy without hindering expression.

The large, vaulted family room offers relatives and friends a place to relax and enjoy each other's company. A warm fireplace and skylit ceiling will take the chill out of winter nights. The walk-through kitchen will make things easier for the cook in the house. If not serving formally in the dining room, meals may be taken at either the raised eating bar or passed through to the cozy breakfast nook. A large garden window lets in the sunshine and provides a great view. Next to the nook is a spacious utility room accessible to the garage and shop. Bringing in groceries while staying dry is no problem. A stairway leads to the attic for extra storage.

The isolated master suite is sure to please. Vaulted ceiling, huge walk-in closet, full bathroom with spa, in a "V" shaped glass block extension, are amenities for easy living. There is also private access to the hot tub on the sprawling partially covered back deck.

Two almost identical bedrooms complete the design. Each has ample closet space and share a desk and book shelves directly across the hall, for any students in the house or just as a quiet spot for letter writing. A full, skylit bathroom is right around the corner.

For a study kit of the OMAHA (334-030), send $9.00, to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2307-LP60, Eugene, OR 97402 (Be sure to specify plan name & number). For a collection of plan books featuring Landmark's most popular home plans, send $20 to Landmark.

Kessel signs, joins Mets minor league contingent

STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

Relief and joy came over the Kessel family Sunday night as Kyle Kessel signed a professional baseball contract with the New York Mets.

Kessel will be able to juggle being a student at Texas A&M University and playing baseball in the Mets minor league organization next year. The contract is actually for the 1995 season.

"The strongest factors the Mets had going for them was Kyle would not be able to play much baseball after basketball season at Texas A&M," Dennis Kessel, Kyle's Dad and coach, said.

ketball in College Station, Texas in 1994-95, on an Aggies' scholarship.

Kessel is working out with the Mets rookie league team in Port St. Loucie, Fla. this month before reporting for classes at Texas A&M University Aug. 20.

The Mets offered to pay Kessel the cost of a four-year education. "That is something we held out for," Coach Kessel said.

Kessel described his son's contract as equivalent to what a fifth or sixth round player would receive. Kessel was drafted in the lower rounds by the Mets in June.

Sunday's contract signing was in many ways a dream come true for Dad.

"The reason why I came to the Chicago area (from Oregon, Ill.) 10 years ago, was so Kyle would be noticed by professional baseball scouts. That was an opportunity I did not have growing up in rural Illinois," Coach Kessel said.

At the same time, it is a relief. Kessel pitched for the Mundelein Legion team which finished runner-up in the District 10 Final Four. Three Mets scouts watched as Mundelein lost a semifinal game to Barrington 6-5 in 10 innings.

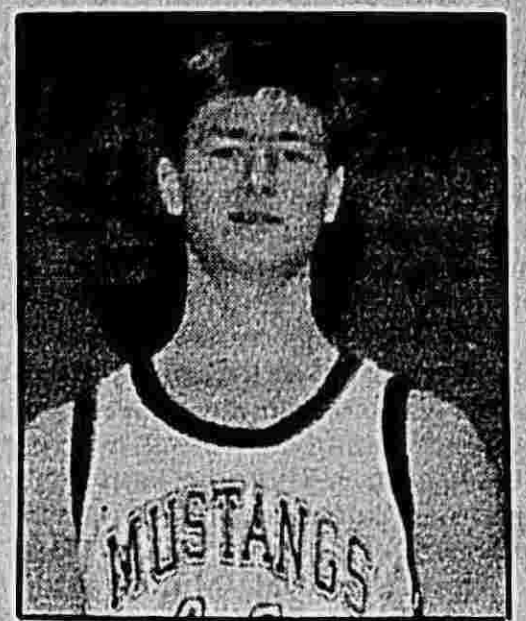

"His biggest challenge will be to face bigger hitters. He will have to develop a change-up to go with his fastball and with maturity, he should be able to throw harder,"

Coach Kessel said.

Kessel first appeared on the Lake County hoops scene as a seventh-grader playing for the eighth-grade team at Carl Sandburg Junior High's basketball program. He went on to star as a Mustang, leading the team two regional titles and undefeated North Suburban Conference season last winter. He was named Lakeland Newspapers MVP his junior year and shared the honor his senior year.

But Dennis knew his son's long-term chance for success was as a left-hander on the mound.

"We always wanted to keep a foot in the door for baseball," he said.

Kyle Kessel

And who knows, someday that door may be the locker room to the Mets' Shea Stadium.

Delgado wins gold in fencing

Fernando Delgado of Gurnee continued his success at the Prairie State Games by winning the gold medal in men's foil competition.

"It was pretty intense," Delgado said of the competition in Peoria.

Delgado, a Woodland District 50 teacher, won the final round 15-10. "It was close until the end," he said.

Delgado coordinates a fencing club at the College of Lake County. Julie Pask of Round Lake took second in the women's epee and Jeff Raden of Hawthorn Woods took seventh in men's epee.

The Prairie State Games were in their 11th year, and moved from Champaign to Peoria.

KEVIN HANRAHAN
Staff Reporter

World class sprinter Harry Brown started running competitively when he was 53. This weekend, the 64-year-old will try to break two world records—one of which he shares with his four-man relay team.

But before traveling to Lisle for the Midwest Championships, Brown competed at Libertyville High School for the Masters Return to Illinois Track and Field Championships, where he scored a first in the 200-meter dash with a 27.2 and a second in the 100-meter dash with a 12.8.

Brown, who lives in Wauconda, is a retired school principal from Wilmet School in Deerfield. For health reasons, he took up running and sprinting as a member of the Midwest Masters Track Club.

"The training I do now is harder than I did when I was in college," said Brown, who cross trains by mixing bicycling, weight lifting and swimming. He does most of his sprint training at Wauconda High School.

"I'm stronger now than when I was a younger man," Brown said. Before taking up running seriously in his 50s, Brown's only other running experience occurred when he was a walk-on for the DePaul University track and field team. He was an eventual four-year letter winner and received a track scholarship his last three years.

His training has helped him earn national and international recognition, winning 13 national championships and holding world records.

In 1992, Brown set a world record at the Midwest Masters Outdoor Championships in Wauconda in the 4x200-meter relay in the age 62 group with a time of 1:47.02.

Most recently, Brown won a silver medal in the 4 x 100 relay at the World Veterans Championships in Japan. With more than 12,000 participants gathered in Japan, Brown also placed fifth in the 100-meter (12.74) and sixth in the 200-meter (26.95).

Brown and his 4 x 100 relay team of Charles Sochor, Robert Sobolewski and Pierre Dobrovolsky were practicing baton hand-offs in Libertyville. They hold the world record in the 4x200 meter relay in the age 60-69 bracket with a 1:47, while a group of German (age 60-69) runners hold the record in the 4x100 with a 49.6.

"We got the speed. We just have to get our passes down," Brown said.

He said his philosophy in exchanging the baton is to have the two most experienced runners in the middle, where they receive and exchange the baton twice.

"In the old days, you had the two fastest runners begin and anchor the race," Brown noted.

"We got it off. We just got our legs tangled," Brown said.

Dobrovolsky suffered some bruises in the fall, making him questionable for the championships in Lisle. The relay team needs to shave about three seconds off its time to beat the German mark.

"We want to bring that record back to the U.S.," Brown said with determination.

CLC women's soccer team to begin its inaugural year

STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

College of Lake County will begin a new era of women's soccer when it begins another term next month.

Mike O'Flaherty of Woodstock will be the Lancers first coach.

"There will be tryouts for about a week to select a team. We sent out some publicity to test interest last spring in hopes we would have a team and we came up with 15 names. Women's soccer is an up-and-coming sport," Gene Hanson, CLC athletic director, said.

"Although money is a factor, there is genuine interest in women's soccer," Hanson said.

The Lancers will compete on the full intercollegiate level. A 10-match schedule is being planned. The closest school to offer women's soccer is College of DuPage.

Although not presently a Skyway Conference sport, there are other schools interested such as Elgin and McHenry.

O'Flaherty was selected the first coach. About nine people expressed interest in the position.

"He has been involved in soccer for 30 years. He has coached, is a certified official, and has coached in Germany and had clinics and seminars," Hanson said.

Hanson likes the quality of patience about O'Flaherty.

"He said wins are important, but with learning the basics and chemistry, wins will fall into place. He knows this will not happen overnight," Hanson said.

Hanson said the new team has received strong support from men's coach Dave Beck. Men's soccer was the last sport added by the Grayslake school, some nine years ago.

MHS wins in unusual way, rain cuts short rally bid

Mundelein High's summer baseball team benefited from just playing the game as it eliminated Libertyville 7-4 at the Stevenson summer baseball regional tournament.

The Mustangs could not beat Mother Nature, as the title game with Buffalo Grove was called in the sixth inning due to rain with BG ahead 4-3. The host Patriots fell to Buffalo Grove 11-9 in a slugfest.

The Libertyville-Mundelein game proved to be the most unusual finish as umpire Jim Sowa forfeited the game to the Mustangs after five innings.

Mundelein's Keith Siemba was warming up to replace starter Jason Bureck, but that is when things started to get curious. Libertyville coach Jim Panther began to question the umpire about the number of pitches allowed to Siemba. A debate ensued, and Panther was ejected. The umpire gave the veteran coach a count of three to leave the field, but he did not. "Game," the umpire said, and the two stunned teams went onto the field for post-game handshakes.

"I never used one word of profanity. I was on my way off the field and said something to the other umpire. He (the home plate umpire) thought I was showing him up," Panther said.

He said in 30 years of baseball, he has never seen a game end like this.

"It is terrible to take the game away from the players," Panther said.

Mundelein had been in command since the third and fourth innings, when it scored three and four runs, respectively.

Mundelein, under the direction of new coach Todd Parola, finished at 13-9-1. Libertyville ended its season at 19-4.

"We were losing, but we did not get down. You have to have some character," Parola said.

The forfeit did help Mundelein in one respect, giving it a fresher bullpen for the title game.

Libertyville took the early lead. Erick Figurelli continued his hot hitting for the summer with an RBI single in the first inning, scoring Pat Thompson, who singled.

Steve Witcraft singled in the third, stole second base, went to third on a ground out and scored on a wild pitch for a 2-0 lead.

Mundelein answered by scoring three times after two were out in the third. Brian McMahon reached on a fielder's choice, Ken Hinks singled. Duval was hit by a

An error proved costly to score the tying run. Chico Roberto brought home the third run on an RBI single for a 3-2 lead.

Chris Happ singled to start the fourth and later scored on a wild pitch for a two-run lead.

Andy Kupsak was hit by a pitch and McMahon walked to load the bases. Siemba delivered a 2-out RBI single for a 5-2 lead, leading up to Duval's big hit.

Libertyville mounted a comeback in the fifth inning. Witcraft and Sean Mantucca singled. Witcraft then scored on a sacrifice fly and Figurelli came through again, with an RBI single.

Antioch's Kuxhouse wins sportsman main at Wilmot

Kenosha's Dennis Spitz scored a doubleheader win by taking the sprint and modified features at Toft Auto Racing's Wilmot Speedway July 23.

Mother Nature wins for sixth time at Wilmot

MICHAEL H. BABICZ

Correspondent

An hour-long steady heavy rainfall from an "isolated" thunderstorm struck Toft Auto Racing's Wilmot Speedway just prior to the pit gates opening on July 22, forcing officials to cancel the planned program.

This marks the sixth time this season in which Mother Nature has been the only winner at "Wisconsin's Clay Center of Speed."

The next Friday Fun Night program is scheduled for July 29. Antioch Bowling Lanes is sponsoring the evening's program.

A special appearance by the motorized bowling pin of The won his first 15-lap minisprint main of the season.

Kuxhouse led flag to flag in sportsman main as the Seamate's Charter Service/Herb's Auto Parts/Chicago Hi-Speed Supply Oldsmobile was never headed. Cautions on laps three, nine and 12 kept the field in a tight pack.

Coming for the checkered, Kuxhouse held a half straight-away lead. Larry Surlita was second, Rob Olson third, Ed Devall fourth and John Poehler fifth as those four came across within three car lengths.

"The car ran great, we got through the night without breaking anything and we're back in the point championship race," said Kuxhouse of his fourth feature win.

The first and second minisprint heats saw cars get upside down on the initial lap of each. Rich Brod flipped in the first heat and Kai McNulty in the second. Neither was injured, with McNulty coming back to make the main through the last chance "B" Main.

Wilmot Speedway returns to action with the "Sizzlin' Summer Night Series" on Friday Family Fun Night, July 29. It will be Antioch Bowling Lanes Night featuring mini-modifieds, minisprints and street stocks, along with "Beat Your Neighbor" one-on-one racing.

The Herb's Auto Parts Street Stock Challenge is at $200 if the same driver can win a heat and come from the back to win the feature.

Mini-sprints will time trial this Friday.

The American Bowling

Congress motorized bowling pin and the Pit Stop sponsored NASCAR late model show car will be on hand.

Friday admission is all those 11 and under admitted free, everyone else $2.

On Saturday, July 30, it will be Budweiser night at "Wisconsin's Clay Center of Speed" with sprints, modifieds and sportsman on the program. It will also be the Annual Wilmot Volunteer Fire Dept. Fireman's Day and Dance.

A parade through Wilmot is scheduled for noon, followed by waterfights on the fairgrounds. A dance will complete the evening.

I'LL BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW...

MICHAEL FOHRMAN OF FOHRMAN DODGE

Here's a true story about what happened one day to the great golfer Bobby Jones--and, this is a story that illustrates the real meaning of the word "sportsmanship"... Jones was playing in the U.S. Open of 1925... He hit a ball into the rough, and then accidentally, the ball moved over slightly when Jones's club touched a nearby blade of grass... Reporters later said NOBODY saw the ball move... Jones, however, asked that he be penalized a stroke... Everyone tried to talk him out of taking the penalty because no one saw the ball move... But Jones insisted, and as it turned out, that stroke cost him the U.S. Open Championship that year... Someone later asked Jones why he'd done it... He said, "That's the only way to play the game"... Is there a better definition of sportsmanship than that?

Amazingly, there was once a pro boxing match that lasted 7 hours and 19 minutes!... It was the longest pro bout in boxing history... Andy Bowen met Jack Burke in New Orleans in 1893 and there was no rule on the length of fights then... They fought for 110 rounds... the bout ended in a draw when neither fighter could continue.

I bet you didn't know... For over 14 years, Fohrman Dodge has been arranging purchase plans for military personnel regardless of pay grade or credit history.

Routine health screenings can uncover potential health problems. That's what participants found out at a recent Victory Memorial Hospital health fair in Grayslake.

"Of the 135 cholesterol screenings we performed at the health fair, 63 percent showed abnormal results," says Robert Sutherland, director of Victory Memorial Hospital's Medical Laboratory. "When informed of these test results, people with abnormal reports were referred to their personal physicians for follow-up tests and care."

Over 150 area residents benefited from a variety of free health screenings and information at the First Anniversary Victory Medical Building Health Fair. In addition to cholesterol, fair attendees took part in free weight/height measurements; body fat analyses; blood pressure, blood sugar, hearing and pulse oximetry screenings. Mammography screenings were also available at a special reduced cost.

Twenty community members not only did something for their health by attending the fair, but they also won free raffle prizes. Donated prizes included a free mammography screening, T-shirts, dinner gift certificates, a free pediatric physical, a free adult physical, a fruit basket and much more. The winners were Dwayne Bell (Grayslake), Laurel Bruggen (Grayslake), Patricia Clark (Round Lake Park), George Gilliland (Lindenhurst), Edwin Hall (Grayslake), Katherine Kanka (Antioch), Sue Kirby (Grayslake), Leslie Kitten (Grayslake), Emily Kommes (Wildwood), Roenna Lark (Mundelein), Roger Lutz (Wildwood), Emmett O'Neil (McHenry), Kelly Peloza (Grayslake), Beverly Remington (Grayslake), Linda Setinc (Round Lake Park), Margorie Solar (Antioch), Ann Spiegle (Gurnee), Orlin Swanson (Gurnee), Virginia Vasey (Grayslake) and Eleanor Walsh (Antioch).

The Grayslake Medical Building opened in June, 1993, in the Walden Square complex at 100 North Atkinson Rd., Grayslake. It offers diagnostic mammography, comprehensive laboratory, Electrocardiogram (EKG), general X-ray, ultrasound imaging and (cardiac) holter monitoring services. Throughout the year, community education programs on health-related topics are also offered at the facility. The building also houses independent physician offices with specialties ranging from Internal Medicine to Pediatrics to Obstetrics/Gynecology.

For information on services available at the Victory Medical Building or future educational programs and screenings, call 1-800-THE CHOICE (1-800-843-2464) between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Cancer Society makes strides with fund raiser

The Lake County Unit of the American Cancer Society will hold its fifth annual Making Strides move-along-athon at 9 a.m. on Saturday, Aug. 6 at three locations: Cook Park in Libertyville; Bowen Park in Waukegan; and Lake Zurich. This special event was created to celebrate cancer survivorship while raising funds for the American Cancer Society.

Speaking to the participants in Libertyville will be Dan Martens, Round Lake Beach, a survivor of Hodgkin's Disease. A drag race enthusiast who made and races his own car, Martens will reinforce the message that more people are surviving cancer due to

In Waukegan, Darryl Didler, the 28-year-old survivor of a malignant brain tumor, will give a motivational speech to the participants.

In Lake Zurich, Pat Horan, who survived hairy cell leukemia, will deliver the message that cancer can be beaten.

Participants will include cancer patients, survivors, families, friends and anyone who wants to fight cancer. They can walk, run, wheelchair, bicycle or skate at their own pace. Crossing the finish line does not matter. What matters is starting the race. Participants are asked to get monetary pledges from friends, relatives, neighbors and co-workers in honor of their efforts.

Entertainment at the event will include clowns, an aerobic instructor doing warm-up exercises at each site, and musical groups who will sing. The Mundelein High School Pom Pon Squad will perform at the Waukegan event. Pizza and other food will be provided free of charge to participants.

Everyone who takes part will be given a pair of Making Strides purple shoelaces and a goodie bag. In addition, t-shirts will be given for $50 in pledges, a sport water bottle and t-shirt for $100, a sweatshirt and t-shirt for $250, an AM/FM personal stereo and t-shirt for $500, a personal television and t-shirt for $750, a personal CD player and t-shirt for $1,000, in-line skates and a t-shirt for $1,500, and an Ameritech cellular phone for $2,500. A grand prize will be awarded for all three locations, and a group award will be given to the group raising the highest amount at each site. A personalized plaque will be awarded. Prizes will be based on the total amount turned in at registration on Aug. 6 or before.

For more information and an entry blank, call the Lake County Unit of the American Cancer Society at 336-9293.

Kids 1st Health Fair set for Aug. 3

The League of Women Voters of Lake County and the Lake County Health Department are cosponsoring the Kids 1st Health Fair on Wednesday, Aug. 3. The Health Fair is for children of low income Lake County families. It will be held at the Waukegan High School between the hours of 9 a.m. and 7 p.m.

A wide range of services, including state required back to school physicals for children entering kindergarten, fifth and ninth grade, immunizations and a variety of medical screenings will be offered. Developmental screenings will be provided by Northwestern University and the Lake County Interagency Council on Early Intervention.

Children between the ages of 0 and 14 are eligible, if income requirements are met. After seeing the doctors and dentists, the children will receive free school supplies or a toy as appropriate. All children must be accompanied by an adult.

Parents can meet with a wide variety of social service agencies, who will answer questions about jobs, housing, counseling, legal matters and healthcare concerns. There will also be opportunities to sign up for social security cards and to register to vote.

The Kids 1st Health Fair is organized through the voluntary efforts of the League of Women Voters in Lake County and staff support from the Lake County Health Department.

Mary Scardinia (left), son Tim, and sister, Kate Sheridan visit with R.N. Janice Mann of the Hospice of the North Shore. Scardinia and Sheridan, daughters of former patient Jane Murphy, were visiting the new Libertyville office during its open house.
